SECRET AND PERSONAL

My dear Lord Cherwell:-

Your kind letter of 8 July has been delivered to me and I want to thank you for its cordial message. While the detailed report on the Nomination Conference has not yet been submitted, I know how valuable your own contribution was to the notable success which the meetings achieved.

I certainly share your view about the importance of scientific intelligence and I feel that in the past two years we have come a long way in the direction of a logical and coordinated approach to the problem. It is particularly gratifying to me to record once again how much the cooperation of your Government and your own help have meant in achieving the results we have so far realized.

Yours sincerely,
12/ Redell Smith
