SUMMARY:

Late 1975

This report is a translation of a Polish document entitled "Plan of the Most Important Training Activities" which is an attachment to an unspecified, but presumably highly classified, Polish military report. Part I of the attachment lists the themes of Polish Armed Forces training exercises. Part II is a time schedule for exercises to be conducted during 1976 by: A) the Polish Armed Forces and B) Warsaw Pact Forces with Polish participation. The schedule gives the responsible command, a brief description, the participating units, approximate dates, and in several instances general locations for 28 major training activities.

PLAN OF THE MOST IMPORTANT TRAINING ACTIVITIES

I. Training Themes

1. Central Institutions of the Ministry of National Defense: Expansion of the armed forces and of the state defense potential under conditions of a fluctuating increase in the threat and the outbreak of war at a time when signs of a relaxation of tension are beginning to appear, and support of combat operations of external and internal Front troops carried out using conventional and subsequently nuclear weapons.

2. Front Headquarters: Operational expansion of the Front troops under conditions of a fluctuating increase in the threat and transition to an offensive operation from an unplanned line, and conduct of this operation on a northern strategic axis in coordination with the Combined Baltic Fleet.

3. Pomeranian Military District: Army Headquarters-operational deployment of the army troops, entry of the army into battle from an unplanned line under conditions of conducting a border battle through a cover force and launching an offensive operation on an independent operational axis in coordination with a combined assault landing force and the Navy (an army consisting of allied divisions of the Polish Armed Forces, the Soviet Army, and the National People's Army of the German Democratic Republic).

District Headquarters--mobilizational deployment of the district troops; support of the relocation of their own and allied troops; restoration of the command system which has been disrupted by mass enemy air strikes and of coordination with the 2nd National Air Defense Corps; and elimination together with Ministry of Internal Affairs Forces of airborne assault landing forces on the Vistula and Oder River lines.

4. Silesian Military District: Army Headquarters-operational deployment of the army troops, entry of the army into battle on the planned operational axis from an adjacent operations zone and conduct of an offensive operation on the main strike axis of the Front; encirclement and defeat of the enemy troop formation with simultaneous support of commitment to battle of the second echelon of the operational Front.

District Headquarters--mobilizational deployment of the district troops, support of the relocation of their own and allied troops to changed departure areas, conduct in coordination with Ministry of Internal Affairs troops of an antidiversionary defense in the upper and lower Silesian Regions, and restoration of the transportation system along the Oder River line which has been disrupted by mass enemy air strikes.

5. Warsaw Military District: Army Headquarters-operational deployment of the army troops with a relocation of the army to an unplanned departure area, entry into battle and conduct of an offensive operation; occupation of the sea coast and transition to its defense.

District Headquarters--mobilizational deployment of the district troops; support of the relocation of their own and allied troops under conditions of destruction of Vistula River crossings, and restoration of the troop command system which has been disrupted by mass enemy air strikes.

6. National Air Defense Forces: The organization and conduct of combat operations in the unified air defense system of the Warsaw Pact nations (without the participation of Air Army fighter aviation), to include providing cover for the regrouping (rebasing) of national and allied operational troops under conditions of a broad enemy use of jamming of the operation of radioelectronic detection and guidance equipment.

7. Air Forces: Operational deployment of the army troops, their participation in the theater air operation, and conduct of combat activities in a Front offensive operation, with the employment by the forces of an extensive maneuver in order to concentrate the effort on operational axes far removed from themselves.

8. The Navy: The operational deployment of troops, conduct of combat operations at sea as part of the Combined Baltic Fleet, with simultaneous support of the coastal flank of the ground forces, and coastal area transportation routes and the defense of the ports from the seaside.
