

INJURED EMPLOYEES, COMPENSATION COMPLETED

Between November 18, 1961 and April 29, 1975 there were 352 compensable injuries (including [redacted]) for whom (except for [redacted]) all compensation payments have been completed but for whom, in accordance with the provisions of the Longshoremen's Act, the company employer/self-insurer has a continuing exposure for reasonable and necessary medical expenses directly related to the compensable injury, if any. Of the 352 injuries some were extremely minor, were treated in a company medical clinic, and resulted in no lost time from active employment. Of the 352 total cases 37 also came within the scope of the War Hazards Compensation Act and any compensation and medical payments by the employer/self-insurer are thus fully reimbursable by the Labor Department. Three others are reimbursable to the company by virtue of indemnification provisions contained in the contract between the company and the United States Air Force in the performance of which such persons were injured. The company has no up-to-date or complete file on all of such personnel; for instance, the files with respect to 12 of such persons were reduced to microfilm a number of years ago; and no personnel files can be located for three persons, one of which was over 15 years ago (in February 1964) and two over 11 years ago (1 in February 1966 and 1 in November 1966) and the records available on these three persons indicate no treatment or cost, or contact with the company, since August 1964 in the first case, and April 1967 and August 1967 in the latter two cases. A tabulation showing name of injured party, date of injury, date injury reported to OWCP, type and extent of injury, cost of treatment up to January 1979, nature of treatment, date of last treatment, and date of termination of employment, has been prepared for such 352 persons to the extent there is any such information and/or it is available. The study is contained in the attached 56-page compilation.

N.B: In 1976 - an actuarial expert advised the company after a review of the available facts on the above 352 cases, that, a "Medical Reserve of $20--25,000. should be adequate to serve these cases; however, this area of exposure was one of the factors precluding any serious consideration of takeover by any underwriter./csc
