Military Status Report for Sarajevo, Gorazde, and Tuzla

Summary

Both Bosnian Serb and Government forces are now routinely violating the cease-fire agreement and heavy weapons exclusion zone around Sarajevo. The Bosnian Serbs continue to test the UN's resolve to control the zone, while government forces are more openly violating earlier UN agreements. Bosnian Serb forces also have not fully implemented their withdrawal agreement with the UN around Gorazde. Serb forces recently stepped up their shelling of Tuzla and its airport.

Recent Sarajevo Exclusion Zone Violations

The Serbs appear to be systematically challenging the UN's control of Sarajevo, particularly since the NATO airstrikes around Gorazde. Initially, Bosnian Serb violations of the 20-kilometer exclusion zone seemed to be an effort to assess the UN's threshold for action.
