Strengths:

This project is designed to maintain communications with and develop agents which we have infiltrated into the USSR. At present the project is supporting ten active agents, some of whom are known to be controlled. It is not anticipated that additional agents will be infiltrated under this project, however, it is hoped that new assets will be established through the work carried out by those agents who appear to be free from hostile control. This operation has produced intelligence which has not been available from any other source. The agents known to be under control also provide valuable information on the techniques of the RIS security echelons. It is not expected that any of these agents will be exfiltrated. Therefore, the project, in the current renewal, does not provide for funds to add to the various agent holding accounts. A total of $4,800.00 is requested.

Weaknesses:
