The Daily Brief of the CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE BULLETIN is produced by the Director of Central Intelligence in consultation with representatives of departments and agencies of the United States Intelligence Board. Back-up material is produced by CIA with as much consultation with other departments and agencies as is practicable. When, because of the time factor, consultation with the department or agency of primary concern is not practicable, the brief will be produced by CIA and marked with an asterisk. Intelligence in this publication is based on all sources [redacted]

(b)(3)

Interpretations of intelligence information in this publication represent immediate and preliminary views which are subject to modification in the light of further information and more complete analysis.

Certain intelligence items in this publication may be designated specifically for no further dissemination. Other intelligence items may be disseminated further, but only on a need-to-know basis.

WARNING

This document contains classified information affecting the national security of the United States within the meaning of the espionage laws, US Code Title 18, Sections 793, 794, and 798. The law prohibits its transmission or the revelation of its contents in any manner to any unauthorized persons, as well as its use in any manner prejudicial to the safety or interest of the United States or for the benefit of any foreign government to the detriment of the United States.

Iran: Government forces have been able to keep the rioting in Tehran from seriously threatening the regime, but damage has been extensive and the situation remains tense. The government has implied that it will turn Rouhollah Khomeini, whom it blames for the outburst of violence, over to a military court for trial under martial law. Government spokesmen have said that no leniency will be shown the riot ring-leaders, but the execution of Khomeini, one of Iran's most eminent religious leaders, could provoke further outbreaks.
