General Counsel

STATOTHR

 has been the subject of previous memoranda from this office and at one time several years back had some interviews and was given consideration by the covert offices. He has a very unusual background, but it is my recollection that some elements in his history made it doubtful whether we would ever want to use him. I have just had a letter from him again offering his services, so would you be good enough to check and see whether he was given a permanent rejection or whether some consideration might be given to his case at this time.
