

HEADNOTE: The rights of a contract agent to reimbursement for transportation of effects, under a general provision in the contract that he is entitled to such reimbursement "in substantial compliance with Government regulations", are to be determined as though he were a staff employee; termination of the contract to accept staff employee status does not terminate his right to shipment of effects incident to travel from overseas post to Washington, D. C. to accept such employment, if completed within the period provided by Agency regulations.