		Comments on DD/I Memo Concerning Responsibilities Related to Disarmaments dated 3 June 1957.
		1. In order to make plans for role as related to disarmament, assumptions have to be made with respect to the type of "disarmament" agreements and degree of access in these agreements. For the purpose of this memo it is assumed that the basic principle of the agreement will be the assurance by each party that the other is not making preparations for attack. On this basis it is likely that inspection agreements will be made which permit:	25X1
(a. Extensive aerial inspection.
		b. US inspectors at a very limited number of transporta- tion centers, strategic gateways, and mirfields but little or no access to other military installations such as plants, test sites, and laboratories.
		c. Far greater mobility of US personnel in the USSR than is now permitted.
		d. Little or no access to information from the ministerial level other than is currently available.

25X1		3. Ifis to prepare itself for processing and using these data for the stated objectives of supplementing the inspection processes and evaluating and supplementing its intelligence,	25X1
