Monday, 16 August 1954

25X1A9a 1. At my suggestion I introduced [redacted] OCPW, to [redacted]
[redacted] since OIS is satisfactorily doing for DDP what [redacted] division 25X1A9a is trying hard and unsatisfactorily doing for OCPW. We gave [redacted]
[redacted] the Terms of Reference for the forthcoming NIE on Resistance 25X1A9a Potential.

25X1A9a 2. [redacted] consulted me respecting Mr. Amory's proposal to establish an IAC Sub-committee in Photographic Intelligence. This idea had been generated by Mrs. Sheldon at the time she was in Art Lundahl's Photographic Division under Jimmy in ORR. Without reference to either Guthe or [redacted] the DDI has gotten Lundahl to 25X1A9a give him direct a memorandum on deficiencies in Photographic Intelligence. Based on the memorandum of 21 May, the DDI had requested Lundahl direct to cook up a piece of paper which would serve as a basis 25X1A9a for establishing an IAC Sub-committee. [redacted] is opposed to the proposal largely because the state of interagency coordination in this field and current Defense Department attempts to resolve specific problems are sufficiently satisfactory that no inter-departmental committee is required. In Captain Staley's absence, I talked with Col.
Maxwell of the Rainbow Team of JIC(74683) and explained to him that cooperation at this point in order to elicit facts might save us all considerable misery later on. Maxwell got the point, and undertook to provide, if possible, copies of : (a) JIC 620/8, a paper to provide service coordination in Photographic Intelligence; (b) a copy of a Presidential memorandum restricting handling of overflight questions to the President and Secretary of Defense; and (c) a JCS Directive on South East Asia Reconnaissance requirements. Maxwell was not able 25X1A9a to provide this before [redacted] started his leave on Friday. I so told [redacted], volunteering to carry on with Maxwell, and undertook to inform Art Lundahl by 30 August as to any developments.

Mr. Crookshank of G-2 informed me that all G-2 had wanted to do when it sent the famous memorandum asking for concurrences in a vague proposal respecting release of information to civilian contractors, was to find out if their present practice of briefing these contractors on the basis of intelligence was agreeable. He realized that the G-2 memorandum had not made this point and asked that it be returned. I had General Moreau do so and asked him to inform [REDACTED]

All agencies having concurred in the release of NIS to USIA, we prepared and disseminated the necessary revision of 45/12.

All agencies having agreed in the release of NIE's to USIA, I transmitted to General Cabell for signature, a memorandum to the NSC requesting designation of USIA as a recipient of National Intelligence.

General Cabell said he was happy with draft DCID 11/2 except for the proposed term "for official use only" which he felt might be considered a circumvention of the Executive Order. I assured him that the General Counsel had determined from the Department of Justice that that Department considered this term appropriate. General Cabell then signed the paper and redistributed it as an IAC document.

Tuesday, 10 August

1. Attended IAC, which meeting was the last to be attended by General Porter who is leaving and will be replaced by Admiral Layton. Major Johnson informed me that Colonel Mims had died.

3. [REDACTED] inquired whether it was really necessary for the DCI to ask the NSC to designate USIA as a recipient of national intelligence, since USIA had been receiving all the NIEs for some time and at Mr. Amory's request. I referred [REDACTED] to NSCID 1, paragraph 5a and told him that even though we were ratifying an existing arrangement it seemed to me desirable (remembering the FCDA case) to regularize our procedure.

1. Spoke with [REDACTED] at his request concerning intelligence support for the Special Forces segment of OCPW.

2. G-2 and ONI finally gave their reluctant concurrence to the proposal to disseminate NIS to USIA, and I therefore issued IAC-D-45/55 requesting IAC approval. This exercise, coupled with the service agencies' inability to concur in the proposal to give NIEs to USIA, made it clear that the security segments of each of the military agencies were being obdurate. To aid in their education I arranged with [REDACTED] to have a meeting next week at which security representatives from Army, Navy, Air Force and JIG would listen to USIA explain its security practices and ask whatever ridiculous questions they wished to ask. State, AEC and FBI had all concurred in both proposals (i. e., NIS and NIE).

25X1A9a 1. I declined to type a current version <sup>NIS</sup> of the ~~NIS~~ Progress Report since it was 21 pages in length, since Ann was on vacation, and since it appeared we would have to retype several mats for the USIA Survey. In view of [REDACTED] complaints that ONE had not had an opportunity to train their girls to run the complicated electric typewriters, I sent our manufacturers instruction book.

1. [REDACTED] requested "quick reactions" to his draft of the forthcoming NSC progress report. I made two points:

a. It should be clear whether this report is a semi-annual report of most significant changes or an annual report. (I suggested the latter.)

25X1A9a

b. The reiteration by G-2 of its long-standing plaint at clandestine collection should be removed. I reminded [REDACTED] of the experience of six month's ago and called his attention to the substitute language proposed by General Cabell and pushed through the IAC by the DCI.

2. Worked out with Wally a list of foreseeable projects for the period ending 23 August.

3. Took one hour's leave.

Thursday, 22 July

25X1A9a

1. [REDACTED] of ORR informed me that his people were floundering because Dr. Guthe had asked them to produce a report on some matter or other raised by Admiral Espe of ONI at the IAC meeting of 13 July in connection with materials being illicitly shipped into Communist China. Apparently the materials involved are kerosene products which, by some chemical magic, can be converted into jet fuel. Guthe had then left; Chadwell, who had been present at the meeting, did not know what had gone on. [REDACTED] was on leave. I contacted Captain Wilkins, who arranged to have the ORR people put in touch with ONI's chief civilian involved. [REDACTED] later informed me that this conference had made it possible to discover what was wanted.

1. [REDACTED] office sent us an "Annex to IAC-D-6/3." This arrived at noon with an injunction that it be gotten out to the agencies that afternoon. It was a draft of a proposed letter from 25X1A9a the DCI to the NSC, asking that the President direct government agencies to make their information available to the Watch Committee. There was no covering memorandum yet drafted, and I informed [REDACTED] that it would be very difficult to get this document to the agencies by close of business Friday. He said he felt OCI could give better service than that and that he would have Mr. Amory take it up with them. I told him that that was, of course, his privilege, and suggested that if that was the course to be pursued, I would prefer to return the typed mats to [REDACTED] so as to be sure that his dealings with OCI would not be adversely affected by any attempt on my part to deal with OCI as I had in the past. We therefore typed the mats and returned them to [REDACTED]. At 2:30 we received the minutes for typing. On these minutes, as also in the case of the proposed IAC document, I discovered wording which I felt could be improved. When I made my suggestions to [REDACTED] he gave me to understand that the documents were beyond questioning, since they had been already approved by Mr. Amory. It became clear to me that [REDACTED] view of the matter was that we would do the mechanical work and that he was in charge of the substantive preparation. I said nothing to [REDACTED] about this further, but suggested to Wally that this seemed to be an 180° shift from the line advanced by [REDACTED] in [REDACTED] office at the time that the shift of the IAC Secretariat was discussed. In view of the above, I checked with the Property Procurement Officer as to when ONE might get an electric typewriter. [REDACTED] informed me that it would be a minimum of 90 days. I therefore arranged on Monday to transfer one of our electric typewriters on loan to ONE, pending the arrival of their own typewriter. In connection with the entire matter described above, I found it perfectly possible to be sweet, reasonable, and disgusted.

25X1A9a 2. [REDACTED] informed me that the Bureau of the Budget had completed an informal review of the USIA survey and had only two minor comments. I told him I would put these before the Director as agreed at the meeting with [REDACTED] and that the Director would forward them, either with the report or, if the report had already been forwarded, would send them along separately to [REDACTED]. I wrote this up in a memo to [REDACTED] with a recommendation that the survey pages involved not be rewritten. This recommendation did not get to the DCI before he dispatched the survey.

b. IAC-D-82/2, to propose the release of NIE's and SNIE's to USIA.

c. IAC-D-45/55, to propose NIS release to USIA.

d. A DCI memorandum to the chairmen of the IAC subcommittee on basic intelligence, foreign language publications, and defectors.

2. General Cabell inquired whether we had gotten any Pentagon reactions to the proposed DCID 5/1. I replied that none had been volunteered or sought. He said that General Lewis had been favorably impressed. On Friday, [REDACTED] and I asked General Cabell what action he expected might be taken during his month's leave. He suggested that if the military agencies to not reply within 2 weeks of the time when the DCID was sent we should instigate a query.

3. Colonel White informed me that [REDACTED] had insisted that a notice be issued, effective 1 July, abolishing OIC and transferring its functions as follows: all to [REDACTED], except IAC secretariat to ONE; FLP chairmanship to [REDACTED]; DDI representative to IPC to [REDACTED]. 4. General Cabell made two points respecting the USIA survey:

a. He would expand the second part of the "types" statement to include, in addition to basic, current and estimates, special reports and other materials as discussed in para D of Tab A.

b. Since he believes that subsidizing is wrong, he would not accept the recommendation that CIA's ~~estimated~~ <sup>present</sup> [REDACTED] subsidy to State for NIS be increased by any amount. [REDACTED] and I discussed this point with General Cabell on Friday, at which time he mentioned his position. We pointed out that, the question of funds entirely aside, we maintained a conclusion that the production needed to meet the "types" could more completely and more economically be achieved by an expansion of NIS. General Cabell wishes that this conclusion be stated in terms, but that the recommendation based on this conclusion make it State's action to expansion of NIS. He would accept a statement that State should expand NIS, provided that that conclusion adds that the question of subsidy will be reexamined. [REDACTED] suggested that State

Mr. Amory had directed that ONE do it but [redacted] (since [redacted] is on leave and [redacted] not yet on board) were anxious to prepare the initial paper which would induce contributions. I put forth at length my suggestion that this time a draft be submitted since time was short, since the exercise was a mere drill, and since it would be possible and possibly profitable to write the status report in direct respect to the three national policy goals for intelligence set forth in paragraph 10 in NSC 162/2. Our meeting was cut short in order to meet with General Cabell, and [redacted]. Will further explore the matter with [redacted].

In conference with Dr. Guthe, I suggested that he take up with the DDI a proposal to restore the DCID 3/4 language that an Agency making studies in another Agency's field would not normally disseminate them. This language had been changed by Mr. Amory to enjoin that such Agencies would not normally undertake such studies. The DDI refused to buy this change. He did accept another proposal, namely, to have the EIC advise concerning proposed external research projects rather than recommend.

1. Attended IAC, which was largely devoted to consideration of the report of the ad hoc committee of the Watch Committee. Checked minutes with Sheldon and [REDACTED] of OCI, [REDACTED] of ONE, and Amory. On Wednesday I drafted a "pursuance clause" to the terms of reference in order to cast them in the form of a DCID (1/2). In this pursuance clause I attempted to get the effect of the pertinent sub-paragraph of paragraph 10 of NSC 162/2. Because this would do some violence to the DCI's tentative recommendation to reproduce all of paragraph 10 in the terms of reference and attribute them to 162/2, I also drafted a memorandum from Sheldon to Amory explaining why my approach had been taken and, as well, drafted opening paragraphs for a memo from Amory to the NSC which would induce the NSC to notify executive departments and agencies of the requirement that they make their material available to the Watch Committee. This attempt was successful. 25X1A9a

She undertook to do this, advising OCD. Thursday, 1 April

1. Prepared IAC-D-1/7 -- the current revision of the NIE program -- and issued it on Monday, with extra copies, as requested, to AJR Force and ONE.

2. Helped work up an OIC paper designed to achieve the concurrence of DD/P and SO in a proposal which would effect a "mechanism" to resolve cases of proposed dissemination to foreign governments where the document proposed for release is not one covered by SID-MIC policy.

Friday, 2 April

1. Was visited by a young and uninformed member of the Security staff in connection with the 45-minute loss in The Pentagon of IAC-D-45/54. Colonel Fenili had reported this momentarily lack of control and guaranteed that the paper had not been compromised. I suggested to [REDACTED] that the only other person he needed to inform was [REDACTED], Chairman, NIS.

25X1A9a

25X1A9a

2. Took 5 hours annual leave, and during my absence General Cabell called a special meeting of the IAC for Monday morning.

Tuesday, 30 March

1. At his request, I showed Dr. Guthe a copy of the Quarles' letter on guided missiles.

25X1A9a 2. Sent the regulation on Foreign Language Publication Services (51-140) and the regulation on Coordination of Finished Intelligence Publications (50-180) to [REDACTED] for issuance. Subsequently [REDACTED] inquired into the reasons why "materials" had been deleted and "publications" substituted in the Foreign Language regulation. I explained to him that OSI had felt that "materials" might be thought to include OCI data. He determined from [REDACTED] that this was unimportant to OCI and, at my suggestion, he arranged with [REDACTED] to re-introduce the word "materials."

3. Dispatched under a memo to each IAC Chief an extract of CIA's organization and functions, General Cabell having approved our staff study which recommended this action. The memo promised to provide the recipients with changes as they occur.

25X1A9a 5. Attended IAC and checked the minutes with Chadwell and [REDACTED]. OSI reluctantly concurred in my long version, but Sherman Kent said it would be better to have a terser statement. Accordingly I submitted the proposed minutes to General Cabell through the DD/I. They sat on Mr. Amory's desk Thursday and Friday. After General Cabell had approved them, they were then mismailed to Security.

Wednesday, 31 March

25X1A9a 1. Sent [REDACTED] a memo transmitting the proposed regulation on Debriefing (50-120) for issuance.

2. Prepared a covering memo to the DCI, for future use in approaching the IAC agencies, on NSCID 11, in the light of Mr. Dulles' desire that NSCIDs 11 and 12 not be merely rescinded (as General Cabell proposed) but rather retained, in view of the recent article in U.S. News and World Report.

3. Colonel Holliday, the JIC Secretary, informed me that he had copy No. 26 of TS-77909, Mr. Amory's paper on the 25X1A9a 1. Reviewed a memorandum on the proposed USIA survey which was written by AD/CI, based on the reactions of [REDACTED] 25X1A9a and [REDACTED] to the terms of reference dated 10 March drafted by USIA.

2. Disseminated, one copy to each IAC member, the Quarles' memo of 26 March requesting national intelligence on Soviet guided missiles.

3. Prepared for [REDACTED] background materials on OIC's labors and functions, including: 25X1A9a

a) A covering note for the compilation of Intelligence Directives;

b) a collection of IAC and subcommittee progress reports; and

c) a resumé of selected OIC staff problems, with supporting papers.

25X1A9a 4. [REDACTED] of OCI, in [REDACTED]'s absence, 25X1A9a asked me for a sample interim report of an IAC ad hoc committee. He wanted this as an aid to preparing such a report by the ad hoc committee appointed to review the Watch Committee. I told him that there was no set form and loaned him the only comparable paper I could think of; namely, the report of the ad hoc committee to review scientific and technical intelligence.

25X1A9a 5. [REDACTED] visited us to discuss his paper on 25X1A9a the 4-Series. We discussed with him the points raised in my draft memo and gave him a copy of it. Later I had two discussions with [REDACTED] of OCI on this subject and primarily sought to restrain OCI from its desire to inflate the specific objectives to include all imaginative priorities.

Tuesday, 23 March (cont'd.)

- 25X1A9a 3. Received from [redacted] Security's and DD/A's 25X1A9a comments on Regulation 50-120 (Debriefings). I worked out 25X1A9a the DD/A comments with [redacted] and turned the Security

- 25X1A9a 4. At [redacted] request, circulated to the IADs a 25X1A9a memo calling for a meeting on Bureau of the Budget's survey of intelligence activities. On Friday this meeting was held, at which time [redacted] explained what he and the Bureau have been doing since the IAC sent BOB the categories last December.

Wednesday, 24 March

- 25X1A9a 1. Spoke with [redacted] about this organizational problem and how it affects the handling of requirements in OSI.
2. Was visited by Mr. Nelson of the FBI.
- 25X1A9a 3. [redacted] at the request of [redacted] 25X1A9a explored our files on international Communism. JJ informed me that he was in the process of preparing a staff study from the DDI to the DCI on this subject pursuant to the DCI's request.
25X1A9a She told <sup>him</sup> me that [redacted] was engaged in the same pursuit
25X1A9a and then called [redacted] and suggested he contact [redacted] 25X1A9a prolonged discussion, during which it became evident that FI 25X1A had not considered Regulation [redacted] when it considered the proposed revision. He will look into the matter further and

4. Captain Hurd of ONI inquired as to the/revision of DCID 11/1. He had been asked for ONI's view and had not seen the paper. I informed him that no paper had yet gone to the IAC since the matter was settled by those handling JAEIC. John Easton (54038) of JIG inquired as to his long-standing request for CIA function and mission statements. On checking, it appeared that the OIC February 4 paper, concurred in by DDI and DDA, had just gone to the DCI. I so informed Easton and promised to let him know within the last week.

18 - 22 January 1954

Monday, 18 January

25X1A9a

1. Spoke with [REDACTED] about the statement OCD had submitted for the NSC Status Report to the effect that FPB had been "transferred" from State to CIA. He redrafted and Dr. Andrews concurred in a statement which would pitch this development in terms of CIA "strengthening" State's function.

25X1A9a

2. Spoke to two women from [REDACTED] office respecting the regulation on publications and the regulation on debriefing.

25X1A9a

3. [REDACTED] informed me that Mr. Lay would enjoy having the NSC Status Report responsive to the pertinent intelligence policy objectives of NSC 162/2, provided that there was no decrease in detail and specificity.

25X1A9a

4. At [REDACTED]'s request, and so that he could beat back Agency objections to the proposed NIE numbering system, I searched the early IAC minutes for first mention of Special Estimates.

Tuesday, 19 January

1. Redrafted the Exploitation Subcommittee Progress Report.

2. Attended IAC.

3. Cleared IAC minutes with Dr. Chadwell. While talking with ~~me~~ <sup>him</sup>, he raised two questions in the light of the NSC Status Report. He wanted to know whether 162/2 affected DCID 4/2 and whether the redraft of 4/2 to include clandestine delivery of mass destruction weapons had been accompanied by any internal CIA fixing of responsibilities. I told him that the answer was "no" in both cases, but in regard to the latter suggested that OSI clarify and get responsibility for its role in representing CIA in the ICIS.

Thursday, 14 January (cont'd.)

2. Colonel Anderson called me about DCID 3/4 and in the course of the conversation he admitted that interest in DCID 3/4 had been incited by G-2's negative reaction to a proposed series of 1954 conferences with [REDACTED] on guided missiles and electronics. I ascertained from [REDACTED] that Chadwell had been informally requested by [REDACTED] to appraise whether or not it would be profitable to have such conferences. Some P&E people had made approaches to the working level in The Pentagon and these had been followed up by similar approaches on the part of ASD people. I called Anderson and undertook to see to it that no formal arrangements for conferences had been made unilaterally by CIA/OSI. This seemed to calm him, although he took the opportunity to mention, also, his belief that DSI was passing OSI substantive material which was not subsequently getting to The Pentagon. [REDACTED] undertook to check this last fact, and (for his benefit) OIC drafted a staff study to the DCI respecting such conferences. I understand that [REDACTED] will present this as one of two alternatives to AD/SI.

25X1X7

3. Capt. Reed inquired about the IAC document on BW, wanting to know whether CIA had known about the JIC paper at the time the IAC document was released. I told him that we had known about it and further that we understood that R&D did not find that the JIC paper fully met their needs.

4. After talking with Sherman Kent, [REDACTED] forwarded to DDI the OIC staff study on Coordination.

1. Spoke with [REDACTED] on the philosophy behind CIA regulations. [REDACTED] had sent me a memo on receiving our draft of [REDACTED] (Translation). His memo, drafted by [REDACTED], demonstrated an unawareness of NSCIDs and called for an elaborate particularization of procedures. After discussion, [REDACTED] agreed that the regulations should be viewed as a logical continuance of (1) the Act; (2) the NSCIDs; and (3) the DCIDs (of which he had never heard). We did not reach agreement as to the detail with which procedures should be included in regulations but I ended by saying that I would not press the offices for the inclusion of their intra-office procedures. [REDACTED] said he would not either but that General Cabell might require it. I suggested that we cross that unlikely bridge if we come to it.

3. Attended DCI staff conference and prepared separate memo for the record.

25X1A9a

2. Was informed by Larry Houston that an alternative solution to the NSCID-12 classification problem would be to use control stamps. In the course of discussion he came around to the view that this was not a solution since "control stamps" are different from "classification."

25X1A9a

3. [REDACTED] of SO suggested in connection with NSCID-12 that the philosophy of the preamble of NSCID-12 should be retained in the revision of NSCID-11.

Thursday, 24 December

1. At his request, I visited H. S. Foster, Chief of the Public Studies Division in the State Department. Budget restrictions make it necessary for State to drop publication of their weekly report digesting current articles in the U.S. press pertinent to U.S. foreign relations. I told him it was extremely unlikely that CIA could assume publication of this review, and had the last issue of the review covered by a memorandum asking CIA recipients to inform me by 16 November if they felt CIA should do this work.

Ed was sure that this proposal had never been coordinated with DD/I. When General Porter made a big scene about MIC policy and the fact that the appendices to NIE 90 could not go to a foreign government because they contained material which had been marked nonreleaseable when "given" to CIA by [redacted] General Cabell made it plain that his view on dissemination was: the military chiefs act in two capacities--(1) as chiefs of their own service, and (2) as members of the IAC. I informed [REDACTED] of FI as to this and asked that he have this matter reexamined in DD/P. I suggested that the DD/P suggestion could probably be taken care of by a DD/P memo to Chiefs-of-Station in which the non-applicability of any other DCID or NSCID to the subject covered by NSCID-5 could be accentuated.

a) When the services copy, digest, or compend articles previously appearing in State publications, might they well not give attribution, both for the purpose of morality and also in order to avoid false confirmation;

b) When subsidiary ~~communications~~ <sup>articles</sup> reproduce in their intelligence publications articles appearing previously in the major publications of the services, might they not also give full identification;

25X1A9a 1. [REDACTED] agreed to get OCD to list the categories of publications at the front of OCD's research aid on "Serial Publications and Information Reports". OCD also agreed to retitile their new "Special Biographic Release", "Biographic Intelligence Bulletin".

25X1A9a 2. [REDACTED] long staff study to General Cabell on Escape & Evasion seemed lacking in the clarity of its recommendations. Accordingly, it was returned to Dr. Guthe, who undertook to have these recommendations rephrased.

3. At the request of covert Personnel, assembled IAD representatives for review of 20 more files on [REDACTED] mission personnel.

25X1A6a

4. Drafted memo to AD/SI on the subject of noise-listening, it having been seven months since OSI was very excited about this subject, at which time DD/I asked that OSI work with OIC. 25X1A9a

2. OIC was sent an employee suggestion concerning the OIC Weekly and Daily (the "Weekly" is the one issued as a "new" publication without reference to OIC). I suggested to [redacted] that the "Weekly" be renamed "Review". [redacted] was agreeable but [redacted] and the Publication Board man were not, intimating that OCI would publish what and when it pleased. [redacted] later informed me that Mr. Sheldon had taken this same view. Subsequently, sent memo to OCI suggesting our view and that any disagreement be put to DDCI. On Friday, while seeing Mr. Amory on another matter, I was informed that he felt that [redacted] memo had been "a little heavy-handed", that he, Amory, had authorized the "Weekly", and that he did not feel that the point was very significant. Mr. Sheldon, who was also present, said that he did not propose to get very excited about this matter. I reminded the group of the DDCI's instruction; this elicited no response. OIC might well (a) use the DDCI and DDI memos as the basis of a regulation, and (b) refer the matter of the "Weekly" to the DDCI, after waiting to see whether there will be any additional OCI comment.

This document, apparently the brain child of some DD/P planners, makes frequent reference to NSC 29 and NSC 97. I drafted comments and held them for [REDACTED] return. [REDACTED] attended Tuesday's meeting but the item on clearances was not reached and will be discussed at the meeting on July 14, at which time [REDACTED] will again attend. They suggested a CIA notice, based on the IAC document on clearances, which would make each AD responsible for assuring proper clearances of their employees attending IAC meetings.

2. Attended a special meeting called by the DD/I, at which he explained to the IADs that Chairman Tabor had written a footnote on the CIA budget at the time it was released to the full House. This note said that it was the desire of the Committee that CIA employment not exceed that of fiscal '53. An appeal to the Senate was scheduled for Friday, but did not take place as the Senate recessed. An appeal back to Tabor is thus the next step. The officers were asked to reexamine their program so that they could tentatively decide what functions to abandon in case the squeeze remains on. No firings will be necessary in any case. SAM informed me that when this matter was discussed with the DCI on Thursday, Mr. Amory mentioned that one additional reason we would need relief would be so that we would have leeway to pick up State Dept. functions. When the DCI evidenced no knowledge of this problem, Mr. Amory pointed out that OIC had been pursuing it with General Cabell, which the DCI apparently thought was just fine. On Friday Matt Baird called me and said that he had attended this meeting and understood that OIC was in this problem; in that event, he would like us to remember that the Office of Training will necessarily be affected by whatever happens to the Foreign Service Institute. I undertook to keep this in mind, but told him it had not previously entered our thinking or conversations with State.

Sherman Kent pointed out the theoretical necessity for intelligence to be closely tied to policy consumers. I took this opportunity to pull together our tentative more sweeping revision of this directive and to forward it to Mr. Amory "for guidance". On Saturday he stated that he thought the more sweeping revision desirable and suggested that we have drafts ready by July 16, the day when the NSC will reconvene on 153/1 and draft a new policy.

I undertook with Chadwell to see that this old material on AE, held in OIC as inheritor from ICAPS, would be turned over to OSI/NED.

I sought an appointment with Cabell sometime before his departure in order to get guidance for CIA/State relations during the month of Cabell's absence. Luckily I was unable to see Cabell. Meanwhile, on Friday morning, Ted informed me that the R Area people had finally gotten to Wäles, who had for the first time seen the problem and had agreed that the R Area should be uninhibited in its relations with CIA and in seeking to work out continuance of functions. (a) the galling refusal of certain agencies to accede to the release of two specific estimates; (SE-45 and NIE-91)

(b) the DDI's interest in the question as aroused by Colonel Holdson's visit. The DDI sought advice from General Cabell and when the latter appeared to echo my sentiments, the DDI had me carry on with General Cabell. At General Cabell's request I drafted a proposed revision of the present procedure for disseminating national intelligence, incorporating his suggestion that ONE be charged with automatically proposing (on behalf of CIA) that each estimate as finally sent to the IAC be disseminated. 3. Colonel Grant in Air Force informed me that he had not been able to get any more dope on Colonel Erickson's request to the DCI for a study on Escape and Evasion. He also requested more time to concur on the NIE-65 dissemination proposal.

Navy Ordnance has suggested this CIA representation to CNO, who is now asking DNI for his opinion.

This request had been returned to OCD by RQM, the latter saying nothing about DD/P's authoritative interest but merely suggesting that the DD/I should decide.
