AMERICAN SOCIETY FOR PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

WASHINGTON, D. C. CHAPTER

Saturday, April 4, 1959 Luncheon Meeting

Speaker: Roger W. Jones
Chairman, United States Civil Service Commission

Subject: Why have Career Executives

Mr. Jones will examine the issues of the extent to which career people can rise in government service. On the reverse side of the coin he will give us his opinion as to the extent political appointees should be injected into government programs, management and staff responsibilities.

The new chairman of the Civil Service Commission is extraordinarily well qualified to speak on this subject. He entered the Federal service in 1933 and served with distinction in a series of posts with the Central Statistical Board and the Bureau of the Budget. After nearly ten years as Assistant Director for Legislative Reference he was appointed in September 1958 as Deputy Director of the Bureau. During World War II Roger Jones served in the Army most notably with the combined Chiefs of Staff where he became a Colonel before demobilization.

Jones has been awarded the Legion of Merit, the Order of the British Empire the National Civil Service Leagues Career Service Award and the President's Award for Distinguished Federal Civilian Service.

Time: Saturday, April 4, 1959, 12:15 P.M.

Place: The Congressional Room, Statler Hotel, K Street between 15th and 16 Sts. N. W.
