2. [redacted] At the request of Mr. Morell, I called John Stark, Deputy Director of the Joint Economic Committee, to verify that we would use the same ground rules on identifying Agency authors who participated in the forthcoming report on China as were used in the most recent publication of the Joint Economic Committee. Mr. Stark said this is their present intention but that in any event they would call us before publishing. He does not anticipate that the China paper will be published before Labor Day.
