NOTE FOR: Carl

1. Max failed to elaborate this morning on the details of his presentation at the special COMOR meeting, but I think that you and the Office Directors would find this very interesting.
 - a. DIA, CIA, and other organizations' requirements for coverage are inconsistent with their priorities.
 - b. What appears to be reasonable requirements of coverage may result in a substantial reduction of launches.
2. This situation apparently arises because analysts' requirements are compiled into an over-all requirement rather than fitted into a sensible over-all framework.
3. A 15 minute presentation by Max on this at the next staff meeting would be interesting and informative, and might also suggest some internal looks to see if this Directorate is internally consistent.
