NOTE FOR:

The PICS' material is very interesting. I have asked Rex to look at it; but I'm afraid we may have trouble finding a way to exploit it in that, as you probably know, there is a law which says that we cannot effect employment actions which have involved a payment of a fee. This, of course, harks back to the days of selling Government jobs. Maybe, however, we could find some legal device by which we could buy an advisory service. Lord knows, in these times we have got to exploit every means available!

Thanks for sending it down. I have asked Rex to return the material after he has looked at it.
