25X1 1. [] Talked to Mrs. O'Leary, in the office of Senator Stuart Symington, and suggested that in response to a constituent inquiry the Senator explain that as a member of the Agency Subcommittee he could certify the allegations that the Agency uses assassination tactics are completely unfounded.

25X1 2. [] Received a phone call from George Murphy, Joint Committee on Atomic Energy staff, and assured him that the blind memo which I was sending over this morning contained all relevant facts included in a recent CS report regarding the disappearance and possible diversion []

25X1C 3. [] Checked with Mrs. Garziglia, in the Bureau of the Budget, on the status of H. R. 14571, the amendments to the CIA Retirement Act of 1964. 25X1 4. [] In response to a telephone inquiry from Victor Zafra, Legislative Analyst, Bureau of the Budget, I explained that the estimated cost of our amended Retirement Act for FY 1971 was []. Mr. Zafra commented that this was a relatively insignificant figure and should raise no problems in connection with the President's signing of the bill.

25X1A In response to Mr. Zafra's request I forwarded to him copies of the "package" of material regarding our Retirement Act amendments as finally transmitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. Mr. Zafra explained that BOB desired this to ensure that the bill as finally passed was identical to the proposal as transmitted by the Agency.

2. Per the Director's instructions, called Mr. William Timmons, White House Deputy Assistant for Congressional Relations (House), regarding the request from Representative Donald Riegle for a briefing on the meaning of the increased North Vietnamese infiltration into South Vietnam. I explained to Mr. Timmons that since this was a rather sensitive subject, we wished White House guidance before replying. Mr. Timmons said that Representative Riegle has asked the National Security Council staff for a briefing on Vietnam and that Riegle and several other young Republican congressmen are going to Vietnam when Congress adjourns. Timmons suggested that we ask General Haig whether Dr. Kissinger is going to brief Riegle and if so, we should tell Riegle that we will provide Kissinger with any material we have on the subject and Kissinger will handle the whole thing. Timmons feels that if Kissinger refuses to provide the briefing, we should do likewise.

Later in the day, I talked with General Haig, of Dr. Kissinger's staff, regarding Representative Riegle's request for a briefing on infiltration in Vietnam. I told General Haig that Mr. Timmons understands that Riegle has levied a request for a briefing on Dr. Kissinger's staff. Haig was unaware of this but commented that Riegle was something of a problem and he would look into the matter and let us know of the White House wishes as to how to handle Riegle.

4. [redacted] Discussed with Mr. Robert Michaels, House Appropriations Committee staff, the reported statement attributed to the Committee concerning aid by the Soviet Union and Communist China given to the North Vietnamese. Mr. Michaels advised that the figures used (1.2 billion, Soviet and 800 million, ChiCom) were not provided by the Appropriations Committee staff nor had they been used in any of the floor debates that he is familiar with. (See Journal item of 8 December.)

Mr. Michaels called later in the day concerning the Henry Taylor Washington Daily News column of 10 December and requested a rundown on Mr. Taylor's facts. Although he feels the answer is known to some of the statements, Agency guidance will be appreciated for response to Committee questions.

1. [redacted] Again called Mrs. Vergie Cass, Personal Secretary to Senator Abraham A. Ribicoff (D., Conn.), about the Senator's request for information on [redacted] Mrs. Cass recalled that it had been necessary to cancel Mr. Maury's appointment with Senator Ribicoff because of his father's illness and said he had been completely tied up with the tax bill since then. I told Mrs. Cass that we merely wanted to be sure that the Senator understood that we were available at his convenience and wanted to be responsive to his request. She thanked me and said she would call me.

2. [redacted] Met with Brian Corcoran, on the staff of Senator Henry M. Jackson (D., Wash.), and briefed him on the case [redacted] Mr. Corcoran expressed no disagreement with our handling of the case and said that Senator Jackson was not aware of Mr. [redacted] letter. They are handling it strictly as a routine constituent inquiry. Mr. Corcoran merely suggested that we respond to Mr. [redacted] directly sending a copy of our response to Senator Jackson along with a covering note.

3. [redacted] Checked again with Ed Braswell, on the staff of the Senate Armed Services Committee, about the chances of having our retirement bill considered at a Committee meeting on Thursday. Mr. Braswell said he had tried to get a decision on this from Senator Stennis last night and was unsuccessful. He will try again this evening and will let us know as soon as he has an answer. Mr. Braswell mentioned that the situation was getting difficult since Senator Stennis is involved in appropriation hearings and the Senate is having morning sessions this week.

4. [redacted] Met with Frank Slatinshek, Counsel, House Armed Services Committee, and briefed him on Soviet underground nuclear testing and Soviet Y-class submarine construction in the Pacific area.

25X1 5. [redacted] Met with Chairman George Miller (D., Calif.), House Science and Astronautics Committee, who told me that the press of business will be such between now and the close of the session that he is going to withhold scheduling of an Agency briefing until after January 10. Chairman Miller noted in passing that he is looking forward with great anticipation to visiting the South Pole during the Christmas holidays.

I briefed the Chairman on a Soviet space failure.

25X1 6. [redacted] Talked to Mr. John R. Blandford, Chief Counsel, House Armed Services Committee, who advised that the figures he gave me last week on Soviet and Chinese aid to North Vietnam should have read 1.2 billion and 800 million respectively. These figures ostensibly were given to the House Appropriations Committee by the Agency earlier in the year. I advised Mr. Blandford that both the original figures he gave me last week and the revised figures are incorrect but that I would recheck the matter and be back in touch with him.

25X1 7. [redacted] Met with Mr. Ralph Devlin, House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, who advised that in hearings last Friday on H.R. 15024 (a bill to provide a 5 per cent increase in annuities based on involuntary separation from Civil Service between 1 November 1969 and 2 January 1970) the Committee Chairman and Minority Leader indicated almost unalterable opposition to the bill.

I met later with the Bill Clerk of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, Donna Yee, who advised that the Committee reported H.R. 9233 yesterday to include an amendment providing for 5 per cent increase in annuities payable for involuntary separation having a commencing date after 1 November 1969 and before 2 January 1970. (Apparently no hearing was held on this annuity increase before reporting the bill to the Senate.)

25X1 2. [redacted] Leonora Guarraia, in the office of Representative Gilbert Gude (R., Md.), called concerning a Cuban constituent who has informed the Representative's office of a plan by a group of Cubans in the United States to highjack a Soviet oil tanker which they hope to use to secure the release of friends being held in Cuba. I informed her that the Agency has no jurisdiction in a matter of this kind and referred her to the FBI.

25X1 4. [redacted] Dorothy Fosdick, on the staff of the Senate Subcommittee on National Security and International Operations, called and asked if we could provide Senator Henry M. Jackson (D., Wash.) with a full background paper on [redacted] Miss Fosdick said that the Senator is expecting to see [redacted] next weekend.

Later in the day, Brian Corcoran, on the Senator's staff, called to say that he was handling the case for Senator Jackson (who apparently has no personal interest in it) and he would be happy to have me brief him on it at my convenience. I plan to see Mr. Corcoran tomorrow.

25X1 7. [redacted] George Murphy, on the staff of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, called and asked for information as to whether Poland has sent arms to North Vietnam. After checking with [redacted] OER, I advised Murphy that some arms undoubtedly had gone to North Vietnam from Poland and there was an aid agreement between Poland and North Vietnam but most of the aid has been in supplies and equipment (such as trucks). Murphy said this would serve his purpose nicely.

25X1 8. Mr. Gould passed the foregoing as a matter of information since the staff had received a total of four calls during the day on this item. No Agency action is requested. Thursday - 4 December 1969

1. (Internal Use Only - LLM) Miss Pounds, in the office of Representative William T. Murphy (D., Ill.), called to verify the number of provinces in Manchuria. She said the Congressman had a recollection that there were nine, while the Library of Congress listed only three. Later, based upon the advice of Mr. [REDACTED], Chief of Editorial Division, Office of Basic and Geographic Intelligence, I told Miss Pounds that there are three administrative divisions: Heilungkiang, Kirin, and Liaoning; but that some consider that a portion of the Inner Mongolian Autonomous Region may be considered a fourth province. I then mentioned that following World War II there were plans to have as many as nine provinces but that this plan had never been implemented. Miss Pounds thanked us for our help.

2. (Internal Use Only - LLM) Gene Thompson, Joint Committee on Reduction of Federal Expenditures staff, requested costs of H. R. 14571 (CIA Retirement Act amendments) explaining that this would be for a report by the Joint Committee on the cost of all legislation pending before the 91st Congress. I told him that in budgetary terms the costs were quite small, but that we would prefer not to have the figures published as they could be used as a basis for extrapolating our payroll for the participants in the retirement system, citing appropriate statutory proscriptions on the publication of such information. Thompson seemed to appreciate the point and withdrew his request.

3. (Internal Use Only - LLM) Mr. Leonard, in the office of Representative Louis Stokes (D., Ohio), called on behalf of a former Seabee who specifically wanted to speak with a CIA representative on "what he had seen in Vietnam." Although "somewhat strange," Leonard said that [REDACTED], of Cleveland, Ohio, did not strike him as being a crank. After checking with [REDACTED] I told Leonard that we would be glad to contact [REDACTED] if he could supply us with his address and phone number, which he said he would do.

We also discussed the possible ramifications of the Hogan and Daniels bills extending the recent 5 percent cost-of-living adjustment to near term future annuities resulting from involuntary separation.
