2. Vice President's [REDACTED], Assistant to the Vice President, gave an address at [REDACTED] on 15 July, a member of the audience asked why he didn't bring the Vice President with him. [REDACTED] responded, "He'll probably come if you ask him." I raised this point at the Executive Committee meeting but suggested that we let it pass and not take any action. The group concurred in this position.

3. American Friends Seminar on Foreign Policy: The Director received a request to meet with a group called the American Friends Seminar on Foreign Policy. We were unable to find out much about this organization without going directly to them. The Director concurred and I arranged for [REDACTED] to contact them for additional information. He did so and it developed that this is a very loosely organized group and certainly not of the level to meet with Mr. Helms. Their main interests are centered around clandestine operations. We will make a report to the Director and suggest that [REDACTED] meet with the Seminar but advise him in advance that this will be a fairly sterile briefing.

4. I was advised that the computer run showed that the Office of Logistics had a surplus at the end of FY 66 of [REDACTED] in its stock fund. This is quite alarming after the extraordinary efforts we made to obtain money for this fund which had been depleted during the course of the year. I called George Meloon and advised I wanted a full report on this matter.

[REDACTED]

It was the consensus that [REDACTED] was not producing at the proper level of performance. While there is a considerable record concerning [REDACTED] that record is offset by actions or inactions of management which do not permit this record to be taken at full face value for termination of employment. We will see what develops from this course of action.
