1. The Agency is responding to a request from the President that suitable material, covering the period November 1963 to January 1969, be prepared for inclusion in the Lyndon B. Johnson Library. 2. Office Heads are requested to review material under their jurisdiction in order to suggest items that might be appropriate for inclusion in the library. Selections should be based on historical rather than security considerations. If the material is sensitive it will be retained in a CIA Annex to the LBJ Library; access to this Annex will be authorized at the discretion of the Director. Material which is finally designated for shipment to the Library in Austin, Texas will still be under security handling in a classified vault.

3. The types of material which it is proposed will be sent to Austin are: the National Intelligence Estimates, microfilm of the daily production of FBIS, bibliographic material such as the standardization of foreign personal names which could be helpful to scholars. Support Directorate material can consist of actual documents or essays on selected types of activities: Items of possible interest might be papers on Agency recruitment on university campuses, the 100 Universities Program, the development of new communications devices or new systems (which would probably be kept in the CIA Annex), items on significant training approaches to problems faced as, for example, insurgency.
