Book Company Expands

The Baker & Taylor Company, a large book wholesaler, is planning to build a 100,000-square-foot plant in Somerville, N. J., it was announced by George J. Hecht, chairman. Land has been acquired and construction is expected to start in early spring. The company will continue to maintain its headquarters in Hillside, N.J., where it has a book distribution center. Baker & Taylor is a division of Parents' Magazine Enterprises, Inc., of which Mr. Hecht is chairman and chief executive officer.
