Against the Admission to the United Nations

December 3, 1965

MEMORANDUM

To: Members and Friends

Re: Report

On November 17th, 1965, Red China was again denied a seat in the United Nations. Thus, the sentiment of the overwhelming majority of the American people and leadership -- as reflected in the Committee of One Million -- prevailed. We enclose copies of three full page advertisements -- all directed to the members of the General Assembly -- which were published prior and during the debate. One of these was published directly by the Committee of One Million; the other two were published in cooperation with the Committee. We have been told that publication of these advertisements was most effective in counteracting the pro-Peiping statements of a number of influential American organizations, church groups and publications.

The vote this year was closer than ever -- 47 to 47 with 20 abstentions (see reverse side). This narrow victory is an indication that the defunct philosophy of appeasement is gaining ground. One factor in the vote which has been virtually ignored is that the 47 countries who voted to seat Red China also voted to expel Nationalist China. This extraordinary action to expel a founding member of the United Nations -- and a member in good standing -- points out the hypocrisy and double standard which governs much of the international diplomacy of our day.

If the United States is to survive, the American people must recognize the mortal dangers inherent in policies of appeasement which can only further the Communist aim of world conquest. And it is the American people who must hold the line against appeasement of Red China in particular, in whatever form it may take: UN admission; diplomatic recognition; trade; or acceptance of Peiping's aggression and subversion. This is not only our responsibility as free men. Our national security and survival depends on it.

Because of its unique bi-partisan character, the Committee of One Million has seen its point of view become an integral part of American foreign policy. This is in spite of increasing pressures on the Administration to change this policy toward one of accommodation and concession. We believe it vital that our present position be maintained. We hope that you will agree and join in supporting the Committee of One Million's efforts to mobilize and articulate American public opinion against appeasement of Communist China.

Gentlemen:

Although Red China was again denied membership at the current session of the United Nations, I recognize that the drive to appease Red China through other means still continues. I wish to join in helping the Committee of One Million carry out its fight against such appeasement of an avowed enemy of our country. To this end, I enclose my contribution of:

Against the Admission of Communist China to the United Nations

79 Madison Avenue
New York, N. Y. 10016

A message to all members of the General Assembly of the United Nations concerning the sentiments of the overwhelming majority of the American people united in

FIRM OPPOSITION TO THE ADMISSION OF COMMUNIST CHINA TO THE UNITED NATIONS

THE question of the admission of Communist China to the United Nations will soon again be brought before the General Assembly. Sound arguments against such admission have been and will continue to be articulated by the United States delegation and by other delegations who refuse to participate in a betrayal of both the spirit and the letter of the Charter of the United Nations by admitting an aggressive and renegade regime—a regime which has openly expressed contempt for the United Nations in both word and deed.

It is therefore unnecessary to repeat the arguments. You have all heard them. And it is you who must make the final decision which will either destroy the effectiveness of the United Nations through the admission of the Peiping regime or maintain the value of the international body by preserving and honoring the obligations of the Charter.

However, we want to herewith emphasize and make clear the firm opposition of the American people and leadership against the admission of the Peiping regime to the United Nations.

Why should American opposition be of particular concern to you? After all, the United States has but one vote among many in the General Assembly.

But the sentiment of the American people towards the United Nations is of particular concern to that organization, as is the sentiment and support of all free peoples. In times past, some nations and international organizations have underestimated American dedication to those principles to which it was committed. They have done so to their ultimate regret.

If Communist China is given a seat in the United Nations, then American public support for the world organization will be consequently diminished. The same will be true of other free peoples who now support the United Nations and its Charter. And the United Nations cannot survive without the support of free peoples.

If the General Assembly is prepared to ignore the Charter—the raison d'être of the organization—by admitting the Peiping regime, then it must be also prepared to accept the consequences of seriously jeopardizing the support for the United Nations from those peoples and nations who predicate such support in the Charter.

As an indication of the sentiment of the American people on this historic issue, we cite a Declaration in opposition to any concessions to Communist China which has been endorsed by a majority of the Members of the Congress of the United States of America representing tens of millions of the American people.

A DECLARATION

In Opposition to any Concessions to Communist China

American steadfastness in refusing to bow before the threats and blandishments of Red China—or the pressures from at home and abroad urging United States concessions to the Peiping regime—has been an effective cornerstone of American foreign policy ever since the Communists usurped power on Mainland China. This position has the overwhelming support of the American people and its leadership: the Administrations of Presidents Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson; the 1956, 1960 and 1964 National Platforms of the Democratic and Republican Parties. Yet, in spite of this sentiment, it becomes necessary once again to emphasize our considered opposition to any steps which would build the power and prestige of Communist China to the detriment of our friends and allies in Asia and of our national security. To this end, we join in the following Declaration:

- We are opposed to the admission of Communist China to the United Nations.
- We are opposed to granting United States diplomatic recognition to the Peiping regime.
- We are opposed to trade relations between the United States and Communist China.
- We are opposed to any policy of accommodation which might be interpreted as U.S. acquiescence in, or approval of Communist China's aggression, direct or indirect, against her neighbors.

In endorsing the above, we earnestly believe we are acting in our national interest and the interest of freedom throughout the world and that this statement represents the thinking of the great majority of the American people.

Members of the 89th Congress Who Have Endorsed The Declaration Prior to November, 1965

The Senators and Representatives listed below have signed the DECLARATION, which was drafted and circulated by the COMMITTEE OF ONE MILLION. This is not intended to imply that the legislators have read or pressed approval or disapproval of the remaining text of this advertisement.

16,000,000 Overseas Chinese Speak Out...

UNFORTUNATELY, China today is a country divided into two parts: one on the island of Taiwan where the people live in freedom and enjoy prosperity; the other on the Chinese mainland where the people live under tyranny and are exploited by the Communist regime for the purpose of aggression.

But, outside of China, there is another world of Chinese who are equally concerned with the future of the land of their ancestors.

We are those Chinese. There are 16,000,000 of us scattered in every corner of the world.

We believe we have a voice too in the critical decision of the fate of China.

Most of us live in Southeast Asia. We are hard-working and law-abiding. We are grocers and bankers, laborers and entrepreneurs, teachers and engineers, or just plain people who have made our homes in Southeast Asia and elsewhere in the last several hundred years.

While many of us are proud and loyal citizens of our countries of residence, none of us can witness what is happening in our cultural homeland with indifference.

The Communists have attempted to bribe and blackmail us with a view to winning our allegiance and support. They have failed! The overwhelming majority of us have cast our lot with the cause of freedom and justice.

Like the majority of free peoples, we support the Government of the Republic of China. For that Government is clearly the alternative to the reign of terror and tyranny on the mainland. The progress that has been made in Taiwan toward political and economic democracy, and toward freedom from ignorance and from hunger, speaks eloquently for itself. Taiwan is the lighthouse of freedom in Asia and a shining example of what a free people can accomplish.

We urge the Members of the United Nations not to submit to the nuclear blackmail of the Peiping regime, not to destroy the hope of the oppressed and enslaved millions on the mainland, by inviting that regime to an honorable seat in the United Nations.

We call upon the Members of the United Nations to bear in mind the letter and spirit of the Charter, which provides that membership is open only to "peace-loving" States.

We believe that it would be a travesty of justice and a tragedy of history if an aggressor were admitted to, while a loyal member were expelled, from the United Nations.

Should this catastrophe befall, the Peiping regime would gain a new prestige and position from which it could sweep over the entire area of Southeast Asia, where we are privileged to live in peace today.

And so we appeal to you, Members of the United Nations, not only for our brethren on the mainland, but also for our families and relatives in Southeast Asia, who would be forced to submit to an unwanted fate if Peiping were admitted to the United Nations.

The 11th Annual Conference of THE ASIAN PEOPLES' ANTI-COMMUNIST LEAGUE which met in Manila, the Philippines, in September 7-12, 1965 addresses this appeal to the 20th Session of the United Nations General Assembly

We, representing the peoples of the countries of Asia and elsewhere, oppose the admission of the Chinese Communist regime to the United Nations.

We believe that the admission of this aggressive regime would inevitably be regarded as placing a stamp of approval on the aggressive acts perpetrated by Peiping. Such a move would spell disaster for the United Nations itself.

The peoples of Asia are opposed to Chinese Communist expansionism. They do not want to see their precious hard-won freedom and independence subverted by the lawless men in Peiping, who are dedicated to the goal of world revolution by force. They know, in each of their countries, how the tentacles of Peiping reach out for conquest. They know, too, that in many troubled spots of the world, the Peiping regime is making determined efforts to stir up and support so-called "wars of national liberation."

The Communist aggression in South Vietnam has brought untold misery and suffering to a land once serene and free. Today it is Vietnam: tomorrow it may be any of us. If you, distinguished delegates to the United Nations General Assembly, should admit the unrepentant Chinese Communist regime to your councils, you would only enhance its prestige and power in the world community. You would doom the Asian peoples to Communist enslavement.

The United Nations is dedicated to the maintenance of international peace and security and the upholding of the principles of justice under law. The Chinese Communist regime, both in words and in deeds, is a threat to world peace and security and contemptuous of law and justice. To admit such a regime would be to subvert the letter and violate the spirit of the Charter. To compound this betrayal by expelling the Republic of China—which has faithfully fulfilled its obligations under the U. N. Charter—in order to admit Red China—which flagrantly violates the Charter—would reduce the United Nations to being an accomplice of the Peiping peace-breakers. History has made it crystal clear that appeasement only invites further aggression. This was the lesson of Munich, and this was the course the League of Nations took to oblivion.

The undersigned believe in the purpose and principles of the United Nations. We are convinced that unless the forces of lawlessness and aggression are checked, there can be no durable peace. We therefore appeal to you, members of the United Nations, to consider the great dangers inherent in the admission of the Chinese Communist regime to the United Nations. You have an awesome responsibility. In your hands rests the future of Asia and of peace, freedom and justice in the whole world. We earnestly ask you to heed our appeal.
