To the President of the United States: TEACHERS APPEAL FOR PEACE IN VIETNAM

"Even at this late hour . . . I still hold the view that the Geneva Agreements can still be implemented. The only alternative to such a course is a prolongation and escalation of the conflict resulting in appalling loss of life and tremendous destruction of property."

EXTRACT FROM A PUBLIC STATEMENT MADE BY

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant—November 16, 1965

The Hour is INDEED Late, Mr. President!

We are horrified by the slaughter of innocents, by the terrible destruction and suffering and by the rapidly-mounting death toll on both sides of the conflict in Vietnam. As teachers, we are concerned about the damaging effect this conflict is having on our liberties at home. Peaceful protests, even mere questioning of government policy on Vietnam has been attacked, vilified and smeared. We are also disturbed and distressed by recent reports that our government rejected bids for peace negotiations from North Vietnam. We maintain that every possible avenue for ending the war should and must be explored.

Continued

We urge, Mr. President, that you put an end to the bloodshed in Vietnam. In order to complete a peaceful settlement of the conflict at the earliest possible moment, we urge that you:

1. Order an immediate cessation of the bombing of North and South Vietnam.
2. Initiate direct negotiations with all parties concerned, including the National Liberation Front.
3. Arrange for an immediate cease fire.
4. Support free elections for all of Vietnam as stipulated by the Geneva Accords of 1954.
