Frank was most cordial and indicated that he was glad he was able to help.

25X1

4. [redacted] - JGO) Met with Representative William Bray (R., Ind.), who told me that he would be travelling to Japan, Korea, and possibly Okinawa as a representative of the House Armed Services Real Estate Subcommittee. He plans to arrive in Tokyo on 7 January. Representative Bray's trip is in no way related to Agency interests. [redacted] has been advised.

2. [redacted] - LLM) Jay Sourwine, Chief Counsel, Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, called and asked if we had any objections to public use of the translation we provided on 22 December of the 16 December Red Star attack on Senator Eastland. He said the article would be "water on the wheel" for the Senator. I told Sourwine I didn't think there would be any problem in using just the straight text of the article, but that I would check and let him know if any problems exist.

[redacted] - JMM) Called Representative Philip J. Philbin at his home in Massachusetts to explain our problem with the Civil Service Commission in connection with the transfer of funds provision in our recently passed retirement legislation. Mr. Philbin seemed to understand the problem and assured us he would do anything within his power to resolve it. He said he planned to return to Washington on Tuesday or Wednesday, 29 or 30 December, at which time he would like us to have ready for him a memo setting out the problem in detail. He indicated that a statement for the record would probably be the best solution and that he would be glad to provide one in accordance with our suggestions.

ISA had planned to include in their response a suggestion that Fulbright contact the Director if he wished an intelligence briefing on this area, but [] had objected to this and I agreed with his position. [] was interested, however, in providing Pont with the date of the Director's appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The meeting was at their request to discuss possible congressional action on the so-called Fulbright amendment to the Defense Appropriations Act. We discussed several possible provisions which might come out of the House-Senate conference on the bill. While no conclusions were reached, it appeared the State Department representatives appreciated the Agency's position with regard to some of these alternatives. It was agreed that we would keep in touch regarding subsequent developments on the bill.

We discussed the alternatives of a letter to the Commission from the Chairman and/or a statement by one of the Members which would be inserted in the Congressional Record. It was decided that we would take this up with Frank Slatinshek when he returns next week.

2. [] - JGO) Met with Mr. Earl Morgan, House Armed Services Committee staff, and thanked him for his part in the handling of S. 4571 on the floor of the House yesterday. Mr. Morgan found it somewhat fortuitous that half the time available for discussion of the bill was taken up in eulogies for Representative Philip J. Philbin (D., Mass.) who was defeated on his bid for reelection.

3. [] - JGO) Met with Miss Mary Swann, Administrative Assistant to Representative F. Edward Hebert (D., La.), and gave her a copy of the Garrison book Heritage of Stone. Miss Swann told me that unless something unusual happened on the floor of the House Mr. Hebert may not return to the city until sometime after the first of the year.

Karpovich entitled "The Neanderthal Man from Capitol Hill" together with Red Star items of 14 October and 15 November referring to Senator Percy. I left a note for Mr. Sourwine outlining the fact that Red Star's gratuitous personal attack on Senator Eastland in a full-scale article is unusual.

She indicated that the Senator needed the information as soon as possible. After checking with Bruce Clarke, OSR, I told Miss Fosdick that the Egyptians are believed to have two battalions of samlets which would approximate some 50 (samlet) cruise missiles located in Alexandria and similar shore installations and six frog-mark 7 located in the Cairo area. The frogs were identified as being present in Egypt in midsummer and the samlets as early as 1968. Miss Fosdick was most appreciative.

[] for Mr. Houston, I talked to Ralph Preston, House Appropriations Committee staff, about the press reports concerning agreements between Senator J. Fulbright (D., Ark.), Senator Michael Mansfield (D., Mont.)
and others with Chairman George Mahon of House Appropriations Committee.
In brief, Mr. Preston told me it is the Chairman's position that the Senate should take the Defense Appropriations Bill conference report to the floor of the Senate and vote the measure as has been done in the House. It would appear that no compromising agreements have been reached between the objectors in the Senate and Mr. Mahon.

25X1 7. [] JMM) Talked to Bill Cook, House Armed Services Committee staff, regarding the possibility of contacting some of the House "objectors" to head off any possible problems when our retirement legislation reaches the floor. Cook advised against any action on our part, remarking that Acting Chairman Philip Philbin had told the Committee staff that he alone would handle the problem of the objectors.
I mentioned to Cook that the Time article on Cienfuegos was misleading in a number of important respects and I would be glad to brief any of the Committee on the details if they were interested. He said he saw no need for this at the moment.

25X1 8. [] - JMM) Met with Ralph Preston, Staff Assistant, House Appropriations Committee, whom I brought up to date on recent information regarding Communist tactics in Vietnam, radar installations in Egypt, political developments in Poland, and Soviet naval activities in Cuba.
Mr. Preston had no new information on the status of the conference report on the Defense Appropriations bill, but argued that it would be a great mistake at this stage to delete the language which had been added to the so-called "Fulbright amendment" at Mr. Mahon's suggestion, since to do so at this time would lend weight to the restrictive interpretation of the Fulbright amendment.

After review of Colonel White's statement, Mr. Slatinshek suggested the inclusion of a brief statement on the cost of the bill and suggested Colonel White be prepared to discuss the financial aspects of the bill. I told Mr. Slatinshek, in passing, that the Director would not be in attendance tomorrow due to a directed meeting from the White House with the Secretaries of State and Defense. 1. [] - JMM) Ralph Preston, Staff Assistant, House Appropriations Committee, called to say that in the Senate-House conference on Saturday it appeared that they might be willing to accept an amendment to the Fulbright amendment which would involve adding to the existing language the following:

" . . . but nothing herein will be construed to prohibit support of free world or local forces in actions designed to promote the safe and orderly withdrawal or disengagement of U.S. forces from the war in Indochina. "

I told Preston that this language, which was almost identical to that proposed by the Agency, would go far toward solving our problems and I hoped he would pull hard to get it accepted.

Later I discussed the above with Bill Woodruff, Counsel, Senate Appropriations Committee, who agreed also to work for acceptance of the above language, although he said the last few words should be changed from " the war in Indochina " to " combat activities in Southeast Asia. "

2. [redacted] GLC) Bob Davis, of the Defector Committee Staff, called to say the Department of State had been in touch with him about the Alsop articles on [redacted] referring to testimony by [redacted] on the Hill. Several congressmen (who were not identified by State) have been in touch with the Department about this. State is attempting to handle the situation by indicating to the congressmen that they are not aware of any testimony by [redacted] before the Congress.

3. [redacted] - JGO) Met with Mr. Roland Paul, Senate Foreign Relations Committee staff, and gave him the figures provided by OER/DDI concerning the military casualties and male population of North Vietnam age 17 to 35 for the period 1965 to 1970. Mr. Paul was most appreciative and told me that in keeping with the classification he would hold the information at his own desk for background. The information that had prompted his query was received from [redacted] who had given him a casualty figure of one-half the 15 to 23 year age group of the male population. 4. [] - JGO) Met with Mr. Ralph Preston, House Appropriations Committee staff, who gave me a copy of the Defense Appropriations bill reported yesterday by the Senate Appropriations Committee. Mr. Preston told me that he has discussed the Senate amendments restricting the use of funds in Southeast Asia with the Chairman. Mr. Preston does not know when to expect determination by the Chairman whether he will recommend that the House accept the Senate amendments or reject them and go to conference on the bill.

I briefed Mr. Preston on the TU-95 flights to Cuba; Cienfuegos; and Soviet naval facilities at Sollum and Mersa Matruh.

5. [] - JGO) Met with Mr. Frank Slatinshek, Acting Chief Counsel, House Armed Services Committee. I brought him up to date on the Senate handling of the Agency retirement bill. As an aside Mr. Slatinshek noted that the Defense Department briefing of the full Committee yesterday afternoon on Son Tay, bombing, and Cuba was not a very satisfactory one. Many of the members had already departed and other incidents apparently marred the continuity of the briefing leaving those present less than satisfied with the briefing.

I briefed Mr. Slatinshek on a Chinese missile site.

7. [redacted] LLM) Delivered to Ed Braswell, Senate Armed Services Committee staff, the draft Committee report on the CIA Retirement Act amendments he had requested from Mr. Maury yesterday and he said it was exactly what he wanted. I brought his attention to the fiscal data section and told him that the amendments would initially result in a net increase of funds for the system due to the infusion of funds under the employer contributions provision. I gave him a written report on the status of the retirement ceiling as of 3 December, indicating only 22 unencumbered slots remain, and he agreed this fully demonstrated the urgency of our needs. I also left with him a short paper on ceiling for him to use as an aide-memoir in the executive session of the Committee. Braswell was hopeful that he might be able to see the Chairman later this afternoon, looking towards favorably reporting out our amendments early next week.

Referring to a question he brought up at our last Subcommittee hearing, I filled Bow in on recent developments regarding terrorism in Uruguay.

I also mentioned certain developments regarding Soviet and ChiCom missile and Soviet naval activities.

In response to my question Bow said attacks on the Agency from the House membership, such as the Democratic Study Group allegations, need not be taken seriously at this time.

In response to Bow's question I said that the operation at Son Tay was strictly a military affair for which the Agency had no responsibility. Bow said he was glad to hear this, but we'd be hearing a lot about this and an effort would certainly be made to try to pin it on the Agency.

2. [redacted] - JMM) Last evening discussed with Ralph Preston, Staff Assistant, House Appropriations Committee, the problem posed by the fact that apparently the language of the Fulbright amendment is to be incorporated in the Senate version of the Defense Procurement bill. Preston feels that this would pose some very serious problems for Chairman Mahon on the House side, and this morning Preston called to say he had received an advanced copy of the bill which would be formally sent to the House this afternoon and it did indeed contain a provision identical to the so-called Fulbright amendment. Preston is concerned that this language could properly be interpreted as applying to certain going programs in Southeast Asia. He feels that before deciding on how to handle this bill on the House side Chairman Mahon will want to assure himself of exactly what the effects are, and for this reason may want to discuss the problem personally with the Director. Preston hopes to take the matter up with Mahon before the end of the week and will let us know the results.

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

1. [] - GLC) Messrs. Maury and []^{25X1A} met with Ed Braswell, Chief of Staff, Senate Armed Services Committee, and stressed our concern about getting our pending retirement legislation through before Congress adjourns. Mr. Maury pointed out again that the legislation was noncontroversial and merely conforming in nature. Braswell said he would talk to Senator Stennis about it this week. In response to Mr. Maury's offer to talk with the Chairman personally about the legislation, Braswell suggested that we wait until he has an opportunity to take the matter up with him. The Committee will have an executive session in the next few days and it is possible the legislation can be reported at that time.

Braswell asked for our assistance in pulling together unclassified information on the extent of trade on the part of various countries with North Vietnam. We said we would check with our people and be back in touch with him.

2. []^{25X1A} GLC) Messrs. Maury and [] met with Bill Woodruff, Counsel, Senate Appropriations Committee, and Mr. Maury gave him the highlights of yesterday's meeting with Ed Braswell, Senate Armed Services Committee staff and Ralph Preston, House Appropriations Committee staff. Woodruff expressed the opinion that the total Agency budget figure could be divulged without serious consequences but gave the impression that he did not plan to push this position at this time. We expressed concern that revelation of the total Agency budget figure would merely be a first step which would result in increasing pressure for more details on Agency expenditures.

We brought Woodruff up to date on several current intelligence items including the position of the Soviet sub tender near Cuba, the status of Soviet-Cuban relations, Egypt's pilot training effort, and status of the Soviet SU-7 Fitter fighter bomber.

3. [] GLC) I advised Gerry Elliott, Staff Assistant to Representative Donald M. Fraser (D., Minn.), that we had taken up with the Director their request of yesterday for an Agency briefing on Cambodia for Congressman Fraser. I told him since the State Department and the Department of Defense have all the information the Agency has on Cambodia and have appeared before the Foreign Affairs Committee, the Director felt it would be inappropriate for the Agency to give personal briefings to members of the Committee. Elliott said he had informed Representative Fraser of our conversation yesterday and the Congressman had expected that we would not want to brief individual members, but wondered whether the Director would respond favorably to a request from Chairman Morgan if Fraser could persuade the Chairman to call the Director before the Foreign Affairs Committee. I told Elliott that, of course, I could make no commitment for the Director on this, but was certain the Director would give serious consideration to any request from Chairman Morgan and would cooperate to the extent possible under the circumstances.
