*Wants Columnists
To Let Up on CIA*

I think Americans should realize that we will not defeat communism by a full-scale war. The only possible way to defeat communism is subversively. This is logical.

Therefore, instead of certain columnists attacking the Central Intelligence Agency for "messing something up," these writers should encourage support for this agency. Also, instead of budgeting the agency's allotment of money, the government should try to appropriate as much money as needed to wage a successful fight against an aggressor.
