

ted in Congress assembled. That the Act of February 16, 1960 (74 Stat. 3) which amended the Act of May 8, 1928, as amended (22 U.S.C. 269b) is hereby amended by deleting the phrase "for the fiscal years 1961 and 1962".

The letter presented by Mr. FULBRIGHT is as follows:

JANUARY 18, 1961.

Hon. RICHARD M. NIXON,
President of the Senate.

DEAR MR. VICE PRESIDENT: I submit herewith a proposed draft of an amendment to the joint resolution providing for membership and participation by the United States in the Inter-American Children's Institute.

This draft legislation has the purpose of deleting a phrase in the present legislation which, by limiting the authority for making appropriations to the fiscal years 1961 and 1962, in effect will end U.S. membership in the Inter-American Children's Institute, an organization in which we have participated and played a leading role since 1928.

The Inter-American Children's Institute is an entity whose proven technical abilities and whose contributions to the well-being of the children of the participating American states have been recognized throughout the Americas. Our leadership in this hemisphere and position of acknowledged competence in matters of children's social welfare, is unquestioned. Without U.S. membership the effectiveness of the organization's program would be adversely affected.

Within the framework of its primary purpose as a center for technical consultation, advisory services, to foster a helpful publications program and for the dissemination of information on all matters pertinent to the welfare of the children of the Americas, the Inter-American Children's Institute has recently staged successful seminars in child nutrition which in turn have stimulated several Latin American countries to sponsor national seminars on the subject. In cooperation with UNICEF, the Institute is sponsoring a training course for pediatricians.

It is giving active support to reconstruction efforts in Chile by helping to plan and staff centers for child care training in Chilean disaster areas. Despite its comparatively low budget of $80,000 annually, the Institute is recognized throughout the Americas for its high degree of technical performance in matters of child welfare.

The elimination of a time limit on our membership is considered in the best interests of our effective participation in the activities of the Organization. Otherwise, long-range consideration of the direction that the Organization should take and the most efficient way in which it should operate would not be possible since continuation of U.S. membership could not be assured beyond the time limits contained in the authorization act. It would appear paramount for the United States at every second year's meeting of the Directing Council of the Children's Institute to have to qualify the entire U.S. support of the Institute, to say nothing of our share of the assessment quota which is more than vital to the existence of the Organization.

It would also be more in conformity with the pattern of membership's authorization governing our participation in other international organizations, including the United Nations and its specialized agencies; the Organization of American States and other inter-American organizations, various other regional organizations and organizations of a more limited single-function type.

U.S. participation in the Children's Institute, a specialized organization of the Organization of American States, is a means of expressing this Government's support of Pan American solidarity. Our continuing membership in the Children's Institute, insured by the favorable consideration of the draft legislation submitted herewith, would assure the Americas of our willingness to continue to share our special skills and knowledge with the less developed countries. It is hoped that Congress will be able to give favorable consideration to this request during the present session.

A similar communication is being sent to the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The Bureau of the Budget on January 18, 1961, informed the Department that there is no objection to the submission of this proposal to the Congress for its consideration.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM B. MACOMBER, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary
(For the Secretary of State.)

COMMUNIST AGGRESSION AGAINST HUNGARY AND TIBET

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I was deeply moved by the words of Monignor Bela Varga's invocation this morning. It was a great privilege to have him with us again. He is a man who has the rare distinction of having been sentenced to death by both the Nazis and the Communists.

I am sure all of us joined with him in his prayer that the blessings of freedom be restored to the brave Hungarian people and to the hundreds of millions of other peoples in Europe, and also in Asia, who today are shut off from these blessings.

But an act of prayer, as I see it, is also an act of self-dedication. If we pray for freedom, but if in our actions we deny freedom or fall short of defending it, we shall not merit the divine assistance for which we pray.

It is from this standpoint, Mr. President, that I wish to comment on certain recent reports that have appeared in the press.

In the New York Herald Tribune of March 2 there was a report to the effect that Ambassador Stevenson favored dropping the so-called cold war issues from the United Nations agenda, thus
