News photos widely printed yesterday showed President Johnson in an apparently buddy-buddy White House conversation with Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), who has been doing his worst for months to sabotage the Viet War effort.

~~We only hope that, if any reconciliation between these two is cooking, it is Fulbright who is backing down.~~

If President Johnson is deferring to the Arkansas segregationist, there will be no end to it, and our war effort in Viet Nam sooner or later may wind up in complete Red victory.

You simply cannot, repeat cannot, appease professional "liberals," and if you try to do so they grab a mile for every inch you give them.

We hope devoutly that this fact of life is known to the President, and that he never will forget or discount it.
