5. (Secret - GLC) Met with Guy McConnell, Senate Appropriations Committee staff, and provided him with a copy of a DCI Congressional Briefing sheet dated 10 October 1973 on the Middle East and a summary of today's situation reports on the situation. I retrieved from McConnell briefing papers which I gave him yesterday.

6. (Confidential - GLC) In response to his request, I met with David Martin, Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security. He referred to the fact that the Soviet World Peace Congress will meet again later this month. He is interested in knowing whether we have any unclassified information on past operations of the congress or whether we know of the existence of any such material. I told him I would check on this and let him know.

Martin made available to me copies of his proposed Committee release entitled "Soviet Disarmament Propaganda and the Strange Case of Marshal Grechko." He said he thought [redacted] would be interested in this and he would appreciate any comments or corrections which [redacted] or any of our people might care to make on this text. 25X1 25X1

7. (Confidential - GLC) In response to his request, I met with Al Tarabochia, Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security staff. He provided me with several copies of the testimony of [redacted] before the Subcommittee (1969) and the testimony of [redacted] 25X1 25X1

[redacted] He said he had promised these to [redacted] of the [redacted] and asked if we could pass these on to him. 25X1

Tarabochia said it might also be of interest to our people that in his recent conversation with him [redacted] mentioned that [redacted] presumably obtained information from [redacted] and was able to make contact with him within a short period of time. [redacted] also was struck by the fact that there had been easy access through this channel to [redacted] and other information. Tarabochia also mentioned for future reference that if [redacted] should decide to publish his book in [redacted] he might want to draw on some of the testimony which he gave before the Subcommittee. Tarabochia returned again to the question of [redacted] [redacted] about whom he had made a prior inquiry. This time he is interested in any information we might have concerning the reasons for [redacted] any of the circumstances surrounding it. He said this information was in the public domain and might be readily accessible to us in our files. He also commented that [redacted] may have been close to [redacted] and he is interested in any information we might have [redacted] STATOTHR
