1. Met with Ed Saunders, [REDACTED] of the Finance Division to discuss the Comptroller's semiannual report on the "evaluation of Class A and B stations." It was apparent from our discussion that this report is serving a useful purpose and that the situation at all stations, almost without exception, continues to improve. I asked them to see if they couldn't work out more meaningful comment for the last column in this paper and particularly asked Ken to make sure that the Chief of the NEA Division understood that the NEA stations generally were not evaluated as high as other stations in the Agency.

2. Jim Cunningham telephoned to say that he was about to approve of the expenditure of $8,000 for the purchase of air conditioners (in bedrooms only) for their off-base housing [REDACTED] twenty-one houses were involved. I told him that I saw no objection to this.
