1. I told [redacted] of the Office of Special Activities, that I understood [redacted] knew quite a bit about OSA's computer requirements and I wondered how he found out about them. I also told John that the likelihood of us using Phil and DMJM on this problem was very remote and requested that they give him no encouragement along these lines. I also talked to [redacted] 25X1A9a and told him, if he contemplated using [redacted] on any of his computer problems, to discuss the matter with me first. He said he would certainly do so but thought the chances of using them were virtually nil.

2. I talked to Dick Helms about his views as to who should chair the Scientific and Technical Advisory Panel, and he felt strongly that it should be the Director of Personnel or his designee.
