Exps
International Association of Democratic Lawyers ( IADL ) organized in 1946.

(Organized in 1946.)

A. Headquarters Address : 60 Avenue Legrand , Brussels, Belgium ( set up in 1951 )

234 Rue du Trone, Brussels , Belgium.

( Both addresses appear in publications as the " Secretariat," but the Rue du Trone is probably the relatively new editorial office)

B. Regional Offices: (1) Office-apartment of Secretary General Joe Nordmann
19 Quai de Bourbon, Paris, France

(This office ostensibly closed when IADL headquarters was expelled from Paris in 1951.)

(2) Office of Martin Popper, 160 Broadway, New York City ( 1946 )

(3) Office of Prof. Marian Muszkat, University of Warsaw
Skrz.poczt (POB) 240, Warsaw, Poland

The latter two offices were liquidated in 1951 and the entire agenda moved to Brussels. IADL voted to move to London in 1950, it was still under discussion in 1952, but plan was abandoned for unspecified reasons.

C. Claimed Strength :

1956 - IADL listed affiliates in 68 countries. Correspondence with 80 countries. bottom of p
70,000 members in 57 countries ( in 1955). The exact number of the membership or of the IADL Council has never been revealed. The Council determines the number of votes assigned to collective members participating in Congresses, but the Congress fixes the number of Council members with " regard to the development of the association and of the respective sections and international associations". The highest number of national sections represented at Council meetings was 32 ( at Brussels in 1956). Congress attendance is given in figures including " observers" and " guests "; there is a tendency for individual lawyers to attend ( especially many prominent jurists have been drawn to high-sounding "name" congresses such as " Congress for the Defense of Civil Liberties ") - so it is impossible to determine the number of individual or collective members of the IADL.

D. Official Publications: ( all printed by CEPI, 82 Rue Bodeghem, Brussels, Belgium) since 1949.

Polaw in the Service of Peace - sent to 39 countries, 35 universities 19 of which are in the USA

IADL Commentaries - some times called IADL Bulletins.

- Revin addition IADL publishes many pamphlets, papers, studies, and treaties on specific subjects of current interest such as:
- Analysis of European Defense Community.
- French Opposition to Attempts to Discriminate in Civil Service.
- Study on the Rights of Defense
- The Rehabilitation of the Hitlerite War Criminals and the Project of the European Army.
- Repression in North Africa.
