2. In the morning a meeting was held with [redacted] and [redacted]. It was decided that we do not want any further development done on the Hadley file type carrying kit. [redacted] is to deliver the prototype they have been working on as soon as it is anodized. Work is to continue on the portable typewriter carrying case. It appears that a case of this type will meet our requirements adequately. The layout of the new case was discussed and it was felt that in the future we can change to portable typewriter cases of other manufacture without having to redesign our internal configuration. The instruction book is to be redesigned. Each slide or overlay is to be represented full size in the book and contain as much definition as the original overlay. The book will now measure approximately 9x9 inches and contain about 25 additional pages. We are to receive the first prototype for our evaluation before the contractor is to go ahead and print them up.

4. [redacted] has been conducting a technical evaluation of our Identification Kit within the Sheriff's office. The results have been very gratifying and has been responsible for 14 arrests and convictions to date. Four deputies were each given 25 hours of training in the use of the kit and are having great success in its use. The Chief of the Identification Division is completely sold on the use of our kit as is the Sheriff.
