INSTRUCTION NO.
LI 45-6

LI 45-6
LOGISTICS
Revised 11 April 1967

SUBJECT: Receiving Discrepancy Reporting and Processing Procedures

GENERAL

1. This instruction establishes the Office of Logistics concept of consequential and inconsequential discrepancies arising from overages, shortages, damages, technical rejections, unacceptable substitutions, losses in transit, and the disclosure of latent defects in connection with materiel received from commercial and U. S. Government sources. It prescribes the procedures and responsibilities of the divisions concerned relative to reporting and resolving such discrepancies.
2. This instruction also applies to [REDACTED] Field Depots, herein-25X1A after identified as Receiving Activities, where materiel is received as the result of procurement actions effected by the Office of Logistics.
3. Discrepancy standards set forth herein are established to provide mechanisms which will allow for:
 - (a) The acceptance of overages,
 - (b) The cancellation of any portion of a requisition left open due to a minor receiving discrepancy,
 - (c) The disposition of unacceptable materiel in an expeditious manner, and
 - (d) Compliance with the requirements of Office of Finance Instructions (OFI's):
 - (1) No. 71, "Billings from U. S. Government Agencies"
