COMMENT NO. 1

STATOTHR

1. On Tuesday, 20 February 1962 [REDACTED] inspected the prototype model of the EK Photographic Titler. The prototype model contains only eleven characters which are not adequate for current or future titling requirements. A total of fifty characters as the minimum requirement for titling was recommended by [REDACTED]

MEMORANDUM FOR: SIO, Army
SIO, Air Force

SUBJECT: Eastman Kodak Photo Titlers

STATOTHR

1. On 11 March 1961, the Air Force ordered ten and the Army ordered one photo titler through the contract facilities of DPD/DD/P, Contract No. EG 400, Task Order No. 3 [REDACTED]. The prototype titler is presently at NPIC and does not provide sufficient characters which would have to include security classification, code words, mission nos., pass nos., photo nos., etc. It is estimated, for NPIC use, these photo titlers would require a minimum of 45 characters and it is understood that the titlers provide a maximum of 11.

STATOTHR

2. [REDACTED] Eastman Kodak, informally discussing said contract on a previous visit, wanted to know whether he should continue fabrication of these photo titlers or if the Army and Air Force wanted to terminate the contract.

3. It is requested that the Army and Air Force SIOs inform their appropriate personnel in the Organization to evaluate this prototype photo titler as soon as possible to determine whether the photo titler contract should be continued or terminated.
