SECOND MONTHLY PROGRESS REPORT COVERING PERIOD
April 21, 1966 Through May 20, 1966

TASK ORDER #14 - [REDACTED]

25X1A

A. Current Status of Work

Product Flow Diagrams were redrawn to reflect new data and to clearly identify functions performed in each Division, functions performed in common for multiple products, and identification and quantification of data sources. Narrative descriptions of Divisional functions and data flow during product preparation were prepared. Current and projected information requirements for NPIC were identified from which the information requirements for the Integrated Information System were derived.

A draft of the first contractually required report "NPIC Review and Functional Flow" to document the above material was prepared. A meeting was held with IPD, PD, and PSD personnel to coordinate report publication by the Center.

B. Problem Areas Encountered

25X1A

Authorization to transfer TSC material to [REDACTED] has not yet been granted. Consequently, analyses requiring the use of such material has been carried out at the Center rather than at [REDACTED] as originally planned. Although, to date, travel and subsistence costs have not exceeded the estimated rate of expenditure, additional costs may be incurred. The Contracting Officer will accordingly be promptly notified should the need for additional funding be foreseen.

C. Projected Work For The Next Monthly Period

The report "NPIC Review and Functional Flow" will be completed and submitted to the Center on June 1, 1966 for publication.

Design and evaluation criteria will be developed for the Integrated Information System and reviewed with the Technical Monitor to establish appropriate priority and weighting factors.

An analysis of projected information requirements through 1974 as reported in "NPIC Review and Functional Flow" will be undertaken to determine potential methods of storing and presenting this information. (Files and output products). At the same time we shall also analyze and synthesize functions, processes, and equipment configurations which will best accomplish the storage and presentation schemes.
