2. Comments pertaining to this discussion are as follows:

A. Untitled original negatives only were provided for this mission.

B. Photographic quality for the entire mission was rated poor to fair. Apparent cause was evaluated to be probable improper camera focus.

C. Complete INS data had not been provided thereby precluding mensuration evaluation, etc.

3. Summary and Recommendation: has prepared a detailed evaluation of the mission from a qualitative position and inasmuch as PAG had conducted a prior evaluation of the Type IV imagery (Reference B), PAG will not prepare an evaluation report from this mission. Future test missions employing the Type IV camera system, if of acceptable quality from an interpretability stand point, and if received in duplicate positive form, will be evaluated in depth by PAG. An evaluation report, as it may tend to expand Reference "B" will be completed and forwarded, as appropriate. The above recommendations were discussed with the NPIC coordinator, TDS/TPS who concurred in their content.
