BERDYANSK LUBRICATING OIL PLANT
BERDYANSK, USSR

The Berdyansk Lubricating Oil Plant is located in the northwest section of Berdyansk, USSR (see Figures 1 and 2). Approximate geographic coordinates for the center of this plant are 46 46N - 36 45E and its orientation is east northeast/west southwest.

The plant is triangular in shape with dimensions of approximately 4,000 feet by 2,400 feet. It is served by a spur of the Androvka - Berdyansk Railroad. The installation is also served by road.

The limits of and the various processing and support facilities within the Berdyansk plant are shown on Figure 5.

The annotations on Figure 5 correspond to the following discussion of facilities:

1. Water treatment area.
2. Steam and power plant.
3. Administration area - containing one large building and several smaller.
4. Six large crude storage tanks.
5. Product storage tanks - there are four areas of interest. Area 5a contains ten medium size tanks and fifteen smaller tanks; 5b, thirty three small tanks; 5c, four medium tanks and five small tanks; 5d, twelve small product storage tanks.
6. (a and b) Shipping and receiving areas with warehouses and open storage.
7. (a, b, and c) Processing buildings and warehouses.
8. New construction area in early stage.
9. Railroad spur from the Androvka - Berdyansk Railroad.
10. Possible housed distillation units.

Construction has progressed steadily during the period [Redacted]. On photography [Redacted] (Figure 3), the plant consisted of a steam and power plant (Annotation 2), a water treatment area (Annotation 1) a small processing area (Annotation 7a) and an undetermined number of product storage tanks. It also included six crude storage tanks (Annotation 4) and a small administration area (Annotation 3).

[Redacted] (Figure 4), five new construction projects have been completed. These included nine small product storage tanks (Annotation 5d), thirty-three small product storage tanks (Annotation 5b), and three processing buildings (Annotation 7c). On the latest available coverage [Redacted] (Figure 5), a number of warehouse, shipping, receiving, and processing buildings (Annotations 6 and 7b) have been completed as well as another administration building (Annotation 3).

25X1

There is evidence of early construction in the northeastern section of the plant in the area of the railroad spurs (Annotation 8).

Figure 6 shows a petroleum tank farm consisting of thirty-six medium size tanks. The Androvka - Berdyansk railroad, serving the Lubricating Oil Plant also has a spur to this tank farm.
