SUMMARY

A military training area* (AL-2) is located 16 kilometers (km) southeast of Lida (53-53N 025-17E) on the west bank of the Neman River (Figure 1). Lida Military Barracks (AL-1) is located 21 km northwest. All-weather roads provide direct connections to the Lida-Novogradok highway. The Lida-Baranovichi rail line passes 5 km west.

The area (Figure 2) covers approximately 3,800 acres, including a 200-acre troop billeting camp containing five permanent buildings and extensive areas for tents. The permanent buildings include one administration building and four probable mess halls. The training area is on relatively flat terrain (less than 50 feet variation in elevation) and is predominantly wooded. Training facilities include an infantry field training area, two probable field artillery 4-position battery emplacements, and a probable river-crossing training site.

The area was covered by TALENT photography and KEYHOLE missions between [REDACTED]. Comparative analysis reveals no significant change in the over-all size of this training area. The general level of track activity remained about the same between [REDACTED] with no discernible activity in the winter months.
