2. Photography is good quality, but there was a complete malfunction after the first 100 frames. The tracker also malfunctioned; although there are periodic frames throughout the mission, no tracker stereo is possible.

3. Enlargements of the first 66 frames of the tracker were utilized in preparing this report. Frames 67 - 79 showed only clouds and mountains, and the remainder of the mission was outside of the Soviet Union.

ODE - 4039, 30 August 1957.

1. Nothing of prime importance was noted.
2. LEPSA, USSR

46° 13'N, 78° 53'E; [REDACTED]
