Khartoum BSO Terrorists Imprisoned in Egypt

The eight Black September Organization terrorists convicted of murdering two U.S. diplomats and the Belgian Charge d'Affaires in Khartoum in March 1973 are currently in an Egyptian prison, according to the State Department. The eight, sentenced to life imprisonment on 24 June by a Khartoum court, had their terms reduced by Sudanese President Numayri and were reportedly to be turned over to the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) to serve seven-year sentences. According to press reports Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmi gave assurances to the U.S. Ambassador in Cairo that the terrorists would be imprisoned.

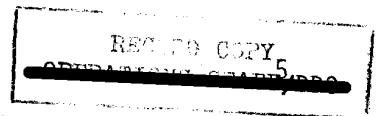

The Beirut newspaper An-Nahar reported on 2 July that the PLO has undertaken negotiations with Egyptian authorities to secure the release of the terrorists and that they are expected to be set free soon. (UNCLASSIFIED)

London Airport Put on Alert

British authorities stationed up to 1,000 troops and police at London's Heathrow airport from 26-30 June in an apparent effort to thwart terrorist attacks on commercial airliners. Troops patrolled the perimeter of the airport and manned the overseas arrival and departure lounges, while police stopped all arriving vehicles at airport entrances. A London newspaper reported on 26 June that intelligence reports from the Middle East indicated that Palestinians planned to attack Israeli, Dutch and U.S. aircraft at Heathrow.

The extra security precautions were taken, according to British authorities, because of the constant general threat of possible terrorist incidents. The U.S. Defense Attache in London, however, reported on 1 July that the alert was cancelled on 30 June after the arrival of all the delegates to the Socialist International conference currently being held outside of London. Israeli Prime Minister Rabin is one of the delegates to the conference. The Attache speculated that the heavy

Sentence of British Airways Hijackers to be Appealed by Prosecutor

The public prosecutor in Haarlem, Netherlands announced on 28 June that he is appealing the five-year sentences of the two fedayeen who hijacked a British Airways plane on 3 March 1974. The case will come before a court of appeal in the autumn. The two hijackers were sentenced in Haarlem on 6 June. (See the 12 June issue, page 6.) The U.S. Embassy in The Hague commented that the prosecutor obviously is dissatisfied with what he considers lenient sentences for the hijackers. (UNCLASSIFIED)

Meir Kahane Receives Suspended Sentence in Israel

Rabbi Meir Kahane, former leader of the U.S.-based Jewish Defense League (JDL), was sentenced to a suspended two-year jail term in Israel on 28 June, according to a United Press story from Jerusalem. He was charged with conspiring to damage Israeli-U.S. relations by blowing up foreign embassies in Washington. According to UPI, Kahane faces another trial in November for attempting to smuggle arms into the United States for an alleged JDL operation to counter Arab guerrilla attacks. (See the issue of 14 February 1973, page 14.)

Kahane's conviction resulted from a letter he wrote to an individual in the U.S. in early June 1973, recommending terrorist actions that the Israelis believed might be connected with the late June visit to the U.S. of Soviet Party Chairman Leonid Brezhnev. Kahane proposed actions against Soviet diplomats, U.S. business firms dealing with the USSR, and the Soviet and Iraqi embassies. (See the issue of 13 June 1973, page 1.) (UNCLASSIFIED)

FLNC Claims Credit for Bombing Cuban Embassy in Paris

On 3 July a charge exploded in front of the Cuban Embassy in Paris, demolishing the embassy doorframe, damaging furnishings in the foyer of the embassy, and blowing out windows along the street within 50 yards of the building. There were no injuries to embassy personnel or to pedestrians. The explosive, consisting of some 200 to 300 grams (approximately 7 to 10 ounces) of plastic, was contained in a knapsack which was hung on the doorway of the embassy by a man described as being in his 30's, dressed in blue work clothes. The bomb went off about one minute after being placed and emitted rather heavy smoke before exploding.

According to FBI information, a Miami newspaper received a telephone call on 3 July from a person identifying himself as "Arcadio," representing the commandos of the Cuban National Liberation Front (FLNC). He said that "Operation Juan Felipe de la Cruz" had taken place with the bombing of the Cuban Embassy in Paris. Arcadio said those involved in the bombing were not from Miami but were European commandos. The FLNC, a Miami-based Cuban exile terrorist organization, has claimed credit in the past for bombing Cuban diplomatic installations in Spain, Mexico, Jamaica and the U.K. and for attacks against Cuban fishing vessels. Juan Felipe de la Cruz, a member of a presently inactive Cuban exile revolutionary organization called the Directorio Revolucionario (DR), was killed by an accidental bomb explosion in August 1973 at Avrainville, France, while preparing to bomb the Cuban embassies in Paris and London. (See the 8 August 1973 issue, page 7.) The Miami head of the DR told the FBI that the DR was not involved in the recent Paris explosion. (UNCLASSIFIED)

Body of U.S. Vice-Consul Believed Found in Mexico

A body believed to be that of kidnapped U.S. Vice-Consul John L. Patterson has been discovered near Hermosillo, according to press reports quoting Mexican police officials. While no positive identification has yet been made, a ring found on the body bore the initials of Patterson and his wife and the date of their marriage. Authorities also stated that clothes found with the body and dental records led to the identification. The remains were discovered in a dried brook off a dirt path about eight miles east of Hermosillo. Police officials said the body had apparently been buried in the brook bed until recent heavy rains uncovered the remains. Patterson, who was on his first diplomatic assignment, was last seen leaving the U.S. Consulate in Hermosillo on 22 March. (See the issues of 3 April, page 3, and 5 June, page 7.) (UNCLASSIFIED)

Mercedes-Benz Executive Released in Argentina

Herbert Pilz, the production director of the Argentine affiliate of the Mercedes-Benz Motor Company who was abducted on 14 June, was freed unharmed on 10 July, according to the Buenos Aires press. Pilz left Argentina for West Germany immediately after his release. The company's press and public relations director said the negotiations for Pilz's release were handled by German representatives of the company who traveled to Argentina for that express purpose. The amount of ransom paid for Pilz's release was not specified, nor were his abductors identified. (The kidnapping was reported in the 19 June issue, page 11.) (UNCLASSIFIED)

CHRONOLOGY OF SIGNIFICANT INTERNATIONAL TERRORIST ACTS

DATE	PLACE	EVENT
July 1974	Argentina, Buenos Aires	Attack on Argentine Head of Ford Company. Machine gun fire from a passing car was directed at the house of Juan Courard, an Argentine national and head of the Ford Motor Company of Argentina. One guard was injured in the attack. It has not been determined if the ERP was responsible. (UNCLASSIFIED)
July 1974	United Kingdom, London	Bomb Explosion at Tower of London. A bomb estimated as weighing 10 pounds exploded at the ground floor level of the White Tower. One British tourist was killed; 41 other persons, including four young American tourists, were injured. The 15-foot-thick walls of the building limited the effect of the blast to damage of armaments displayed in the immediate area. Two minutes before the blast, the Daily Mirror received a telephone warning using a code word other than that previously agreed upon but identifying the Provisional Wing of the IRA as the perpetrator. (During the past 15 months a specific code word has been used by the IRA when contacting the authorities to distinguish real from hoax bomb threats.)

Attempted Murder of Chilean Ambassador.
Four assailants attacked Chilean Ambassador Alfredo Canales Marquis and his wife as they were entering their apartment and fired four shots at the ambassador, wounding him critically. The assailants managed to escape. According to the local daily An Nahar, an anonymous telephone caller claimed that the attack had been undertaken by the "Revolutionary Socialist Organization." The attack thus may have been in response to a 20 July decision of the Lebanese courts to impose the death sentence on 31 activists of the Lebanese Organization for Revolutionary Socialist Action. NOTES

Argentine Government Extradites Hijackers to Mexico

On 26 July the Argentine Ministry of Justice announced that it was extraditing to Mexico the two individuals responsible for the 2 July 1971 hijacking of a Braniff Airlines jet. The two hijackers, Robert Lee Jackson, an American, and Ligia Lucrecia Sanchez Arcilla, a Guatemalan, seized control of the airliner as it flew over San Antonio, Texas and forced it to fly to Monterey, Mexico. The Mexican government paid the hijackers $100,000 in ransom for the release of 102 passengers. The hijackers took the plane to Peru and Brazil before surrendering in Buenos Aires.

The Argentine government had received extradition demands from both Mexico and the United States but extradited the two to Mexico because that is where the hijackers obtained the ransom money. During his imprisonment in Argentina, Jackson was foiled in a plan to escape from the "Model" prison in La Plata when prison guards discovered a 22-caliber pistol in his possession. (UNCLASSIFIED)

Bomb Explosion at French Mission.
A pipe bomb inside the basement stairwell of the French military materiel mission exploded, causing minor damage. The two persons inside the building at the time were not injured. Local newspapers have speculated that the bomb may have been intended for the Israeli Embassy or the Cypriot Chancery, both of which are located within two blocks of the French mission. It is also possible that the building housing the offices of the Chilean military and naval attaches, located five doors away, was intended as the target. (UNCLASSIFIED)

Avianca Airlines Hijacker Killed.
An Avianca Airlines B-727 was hijacked during a domestic flight between Pereira and Medellin, Colombia by Eduardo Martinez, who is believed to have taken part in the hijacking of another Avianca airliner to Cuba in May 1969. Martinez demanded payment of US $2 million and the release of political prisoners, and ordered the pilot to fly to Cali. After refueling, the aircraft's emergency door was opened permitting the passengers to escape uninjured. When the police, disguised as mechanics, rushed on board, Martinez attempted to resist and was shot three times. He died an hour later in a hospital. (UNCLASSIFIED)
