BASIC DESCRIPTION

A concentrated nitric acid facility has been identified at the Tai-yuan Chemical Fertilizer Plant (see Figure 1). The facility was previously reported as a probable fertilizer production area. It was completed by June 1971. There are no visible indicators of production such as smoke or fumes at a concentrated nitric acid facility, so it cannot be determined if the facility is operating.

The chemical fertilizer plant was not in operation in June 1970. It was in operation on all subsequent coverage from November 1970 to June 1971, as indicated by smoke and vapor emanating from various production units throughout the plant.
