15. SUMMARY: (C) The Ideograph Revision Building (Wen-tzu kai-ke ta-lou/2429-1316 2395-7245 1129-2869) is a 6-storied structure located on Ch'ao-Yang-Men Ta-chieh (2600-7122-7024 1129-5894) in PEIPING. The Ministry of Culture (Wen-hu pu/2429-0553 6752) is located therein. It is about 5-10 minutes walk from the External Cultural Relations Committee (Tui-wai wen-hua lien-lo wei-yuan-hui/1147-1120 2429-0553 5114-4820 1201-0765-2585) offices located in another building, belonging to the Ministry of Culture but located on Nan-hsiao (0589-1420) Street. (See sketch on Page 2). There were many signs on the outside of the Ideograph Revision Building indicating that there were inter-country associations (hsieh-hui/0588-2585) with offices inside. [redacted] these so-called offices, located on the 4th floor, were really empty and without personnel. [redacted] when a certain foreign delegation was in town, Chinese Communist "counterparts" were rounded up from various departments and offices to assemble in a suitably designated room to receive the guests. (Comment: This is rather plausible and common practice since most inter-country cultural associations are composed of intellectuals and educators with primary jobs elsewhere and therefore would not permanently staff the offices on a regular basis).

15. SUMMARY: (C)

a. The Chinese Communist government is faced with a serious shortage of adequately trained personnel suitable for assignment as diplomatic personnel abroad. During the Franco-Sino overtures for recognition and establishment of diplomatic relations the Chinese Communists seriously anticipated the newly emerged African states of traditional French ties to follow suit in the wake of France's initiative. Grave concern was expressed as to the availability of Chinese Communist personnel to staff the embassies expected to be established in Africa.

b. The Chinese Communists are plagued by the dilemma of personnel selection criteria. Competent personnel are older ones with previous foreign exposure, KMT affiliation or influence, or other tendencies that automatically render them suspect. Thus only the younger crop with foreign language training, and whose political background must be free of complications, would be eligible for consideration. The problem, however, is that many young people are not party members - not because they fail to seek membership but because they are not accepted by the party.
