	CLASSIFICATION CONFIDENTIAL CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY REPORT
	INFORMATION REPORT
COUNTR		_ ,
SUBJECT	Blevators/Makinsk and Vicinity NO. OF PAGES	2 .
PLACE ACQUIRE		-
DATE ACQUIRE	ED SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT REPORT
LATTON AS 12.	25X1 THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORM	ATION
		·
1.
	and on attacks a second station consisted of a laws comme
	and an attached storage shed. The garage contained a small machine shop with several lathes and milling machines and a blacksmith shop. The machine shop occasionally produced parts to repair tractor and farm machinery. Infrequently, some parts were obtained from Patronese.	El ours
2.	shop with several lather and the garage contained a small machine	uld her vest.
2.	shop with several lathes and milling machines and a blacksmith shop. The machine shop occasionally produced parts to repair tractor and farm machinery. Infrequently, some parts were obtained from Petropay The machine tractor station repaired tractors, seeding drills, discs, plows, combines, and mowers. Normally, approximately ten tractors we have under repair at any one time. Most of the tractors, as well as ot farm machinery, required extensive repairs, especially after each har storage facilities for oil, lubricants, and gasoline were nearby. The weather. All machinery and tractors were of Sowiet origin and were to very bad condition.	uld her vest.
3•	shop with several lathes and milling machines and a blacksmith shop. The machine shop occasionally produced parts to repair tractor and farm machinery. Infrequently, some parts were obtained from Petropay The machine tractor station repaired tractors, seeding drills, discs, plows, combines, and mowers. Normally, approximately ten tractures were under repair at any one time. Most of the tractors, as well as ot farm machinery, required extensive repairs, especially after each har storage facilities for oil, lubricants, and gasoline were nearby. The weather. All machinery and tractors were of Sowiet origin and were very bad condition. The grain elevators in Voznesenka, as well as in neighboring kolkhozes kolkhoz. Must of the grain was loaded onto wagons and Zis trucks in the field during the harvest and transported to grain storage warehous by rail to all parts of the USSR. In 1940, when a record crop was har much of the grain was railed.	uld her vest. sy
3. 4.	shop with several lathes and milling machines and a blacksmith shop. The machine shop occasionally produced parts to repair tractor and farm machinery. Infrequently, some parts were obtained from Petropau The machine tractor station repaired tractors, seeding drills, discs, plows, combines, and mowers. Normally, approximately ten tractors were under repair at any one time. Most of the tractors, as well as ot farm machinery, required extensive repairs, especially after each har storage facilities for oil, lubricants, and gasoline were nearby. The weather. All machinery and were not covered even during the severe very bad condition. The grain elevators in Voznesenka, as well as in neighboring kolkhozes kolkhoz. Must of the grain was loaded onto wagons and Zis trucks in located at railroad stations. From the warehouses the grain was shipp by rail to all parts of the USSR. In 1940, when a record crop was har Principal crops laised at Voznesenka were wheat, cats, and potatoes. A large tractor factory, onerating 24 hours daily, was located on the road from Voznesenka t Chelyabinsk. Another tractor factory was located midway between Petromarkowsky methods.	uld her vest. sy es ed vested,
4. 5.	shop with several lathes and milling machines and a blacksmith shop. The machine shop occasionally produced parts to repair tractor and farm machinery. Infrequently, some parts were obtained from Petropau The machine tractor station repaired tractors, seeding drills, discs, plows, combines, and mowers. Normally, approximately ten tractors were under repair at any one time. Most of the tractors, as well as of farm machinery, required extensive repairs, especially after each har Storage facilities for oil, lubricants, and gasoline were nearby. The were kept out in the open and were not covered even during the severe very bad condition. The grain elevators in Voznesenka, as well as in neighboring kolkhozes were small. They were usually built to satisfy only the needs of each kolkhoz. Must of the grain was loaded onto wagons and Zis trucks in the field during the harvest and transported to grain storage warehouse located at railroad stations. From the warehouses the grain was shipp by rail to all parts of the USSR. In 1940, when a record crop was har much of the grain was piled in the open fields and later spoiled. A large tractor factory, operating 24 hours daily, was located on the road from Voznesenka t Chelyabinsk. Another tractor factory was located was also the location of a potato and grain alcohol refinery. The sketch below shows only the center of the town of Makinsk. In 1941 lightly gravalled while were very lightly gravalled while were very lightly gravalled while all parts of the center of the town of Makinsk. In 1941 lightly gravalled while were very lightly gravalled while were very lightly gravalled while the production. Its main streets were	uld her vest. by es ed vested,
4. 5.	shop with several lathes and milling machines and a blacksmith shop. The machine shop occasionally produced parts to repair tractor and farm machinery. Infrequently, some parts were obtained from Petropau The machine tractor station repaired tractors, seeding drills, discs, plows, combines, and mowers. Normally, approximately ten tracturs were under repair at any one time. Most of the tractors, as well as other farm machinery, required extensive repairs, especially after each har Storage facilities for oil, lubricants, and gasoline were nearby. The were kept out in the open and were not covered even during the severe weather. All machinery and tractors were of Societ origin and were devery bad condition. The grain elevators in Voznesenka, as well as in neighboring kolkhozes were small. They were usually built to satisfy only the needs of each kolkhoz. Must of the grain was loaded onto wagons and Zis trucks in the field during the harvest and transported to grain storage warehous by rail to all parts of the USSR. In 1940, when a record crop was har much of the grain was piled in the open fields and later spoiled. A large tractor factory, operating 24 hours daily, was located on the road from Voznesenka t Chelyabinsk. Another tractor factory was located from Voznesenka t Chelyabinsk. Another tractor factory was located kokschetav was also the location of a potato and grair alcohol refinery. The sketch below shows only the center of the town of Makinsk. In 1941	uld her vest. by es ed vested,

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/09/01 : CIA-RDP80-00809A000600060136-5

25X1

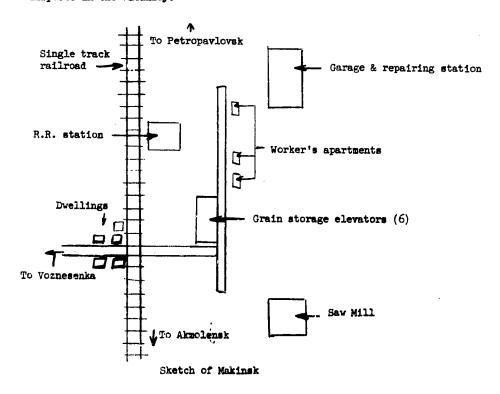

25X1

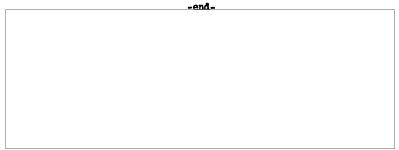

25X1

CONFIDENTIAL

25X1

exception was the worker's apartments which were of wood. During the rainy season town roads were impassable. The town looked like it was constructed without any planning beforehand. The highway to Voznesenka was being widened and improved There were no airports in the vicinity.

25X1

COMPIDENTIAL