Comment. Aken is the fuel depot of the Southern Ftr Corps of the Twenty-Fourth Air Army. An evaluation of the present and reference report indicated that 132 tank cars arrived in September and 151 tank cars or 184 tank cars arrived in October, while 133 tank cars were dispatched in September and 108 in October. The differences in reporting are presumably due to overlapping dates.

On the basis of the flying activity and amount of incoming and outgoing shipments observed over a prolonged period of observation, it is estimated that the Southern Ftr Corps has an average monthly consumption of about 160 tank cars. The rate of incoming and outgoing shipments is about equal.
