Semarang

1. The Tiong Hwee Kwan School, Djalan Plampitan 35, Semarang, is one of the leading Communist schools in Central Java. Its principal, CHENG Seng Hui (TS'ENG Hsing-hui - 2582/2502/6540) and the majority of the teaching staff are well-trained Communists. One of the most active teachers is a Miss PAI Ti Fen (4101/6611/5358), who came to Semarang in 1952 from China, where she had been employed in the Peiping Educational Department.¹
2. At monthly teachers' meetings, CHENG gives instructions in Communist theory and indoctrination methods to be used by the teachers. Military discipline is enforced in the classrooms, with the use of symbolic hand salutes and code words in oral drill exercises alluding to the revolutionary spirit of New China and the Communist youth of Southeast Asia. CHENG has admonished the teachers and students not to discuss the military aspect of their schooling outside the school. Text books published in Peiping are used in the classes, the book for the English course being an English version of People's China.

Purwokerto

3. Chinese Communist activities in Purwokerto center in the Hsin Hua She (2450/5478/4357), a Chinese association of about 120 members whose chairman is YU T'ai-ch'un (3266/3141/2504). The organization is in close contact with the Sin Yiu Shih (Hsin Yu She - 2450/0645/4357) (New Friends Society), the leading Communist organization in Semarang, through OEI Bian Seng (HUANG Mien-ch'eng - 7806/4875/2052), who is a member of the New Friends Society residing in Purwokerto.² OEI recently opened a book store in Purwokerto, the Ta Chung Shu Tien.
