1. The runways on Babie Doly Airfield are made of concrete slabs, 40 cm. square and 20 cm. thick, between which are gaps in which grass can grow. The grass conceals the runways very well from aerial observation. There is an underground hangar with four exits for aircraft on the airfield.
2. Strong fortifications are being built in the vicinity of Babie Doly Airfield and in the northern part of Oksywie. The old church in Oksywie has been converted into a Polish naval ammunition depot and the church tower is used as an observation tower.
3. Near Wawow Ostrowiecki there are underground stores of aerial torpedoes belonging to the Babie Doly air force unit and there are also torpedo stores of the Polish Navy. In the same area there are underground stores of spare parts for jet aircraft.
4. Rumia Zagorze Airfield (Q55/Y35) will not be rebuilt just yet, but the repair and assembly shops there, which belong to the air force unit stationed at Babie Doly, are in use.
5. about 600 youths of the SP (Service to Poland) are working on the airfield at Rumia-Zagorze and are employed in repairing the runways, which were considerably damaged during the war, and are enclosing the airfield with a concrete fence, 1½ to 2 meters high.
