2. The flight control station was guarded by a sentry wearing black-bordered blue epaulets. There was traffic by personnel wearing black-bordered blue epaulets between the flight control station and the barracks. MiG-15s _____ and 1 gray crate were seen north of the flight control station between the flight control station and the church. Work was being done on the MiGs. Occasionally their engines were raced up. Motor vehicles parked in the area of the eastern garage installation included 1 mobile flight control station, 18 trucks including _____ radio truck _____ 2 van-like trucks, 2 Moskvich-type van-like trucks and fire truck _____ Two trucks and 1 tank truck were parked in front of the motor vehicle sheds. The eastern AA gun emplacement and bunker area had been leveled and could no longer be distinguished. 3 Personnel wearing red-bordered black epaulets were seen at the southern AA gun emplacement and bunker area. There was no change in the status of the southern and northern rows of searchlights. Thirty-five fuel drums in groups of five were seen at the place where an underground fuel dump is believed to be located. A tank truck was filled by means of a hose. Two van-like trucks were seen near a wooden hut about 100 meters northeast of the presumed tank dump. Two wings leaned against the wall of this hut facing the landing field. They were about 120 cm wide, had rounded ends and were painted green. Sixteen soldiers wearing black-bordered blue epaulets practiced firing with pistols at the target range. A pile of gravel and broken stones which previously had been seen just west of the target range north of the Wiener Neustadt-Bad Fischau road had been removed. About 100 meters north of this point, two underground bunkers, one of them with one chimney, the other with two chimneys, were seen. The antenna mast north of the southern AA bunker area had been removed. The van-like trailers with glass devices which were usually parked under the lean-to-roof north of the antenna mast with cone-shaped bracings located in the extension of the northern row of searchlights, were seen at the northern end of the northern row of searchlights. Inside the glass device which resembled a truncated pyramid, eight bar-shaped lamps, each about 30 cm long were seen. On each side of the pyramid, two lamps were fitted about 2 meters apart. The lamps were fitted parallel to the sides of the pyramid. For about half an hour, the lamps gave the following red flash signal ". . . . ." 4 A permanent line was being constructed from the eastern garage installation along Badener Strasse outside the airfield boundary as far as the signboard indicating the town limit and from there in the direction of antenna installation 28.
