1. A military commission has reported on the new 120 kw short wave transmitter constructed by the Beloiannisz Factory (formerly Standard). The report has been entirely satisfactory.
2. The developer of the above transmitter had reported to the Ministry of Defense that a new type of transmitter, capable of working satisfactorily at a temperature up to 40° C, was to be ready for inspection by the end 1954.
3. Both these transmitters will go into "mass production" since Albania, China, Ethiopia, and Bulgaria have shown great interest in obtaining them.
