The Czech Provinces show in the second quarter a better fulfillment of the plan only in the delivery to markets, export and production. The plan concerning the delivery to markets was fulfilled in all months of the quarter to approximately 100%. This was, however, caused considerably by the group of beverages, in which beer, liquors and wines are the most important items. The fulfillment of the plan for the delivery of victuals to markets, without counting in the beverages, reaches in the Czech Provinces in the second quarter 101.9% (against 103.4% including the beverages), in Slovakia, without beverages, 91.8% (against 85.9%, including beverages), in Czechoslovakia, 86.9% (against 99.9%). The plan for export was approximately fulfilled in the Czech Provinces only, in Slovakia, not even 60% was reached. Also, the import lagged far behind the plan, although in comparison to the first quarter, an increase by 17.5% in the Czech Provinces, by 35.5% in Slovakia, and by 21.1% in the entire country has been shown.

2. Principal shortcomings

The fulfillment of the plan shows many shortcomings which are caused by:

- (a) Technical difficulties in carrying out the control of the plan
- (b) Late submitting of the reports--Form 110
- (c) Submitting of incomplete reports
- (d) The lack of the possibility of checking received reports in consequence of the reorganization of the subordinated planning organs, and also because of the very short time to work on the received reports.
- (e) The non-fulfillment of the plan

It is therefore necessary to judge the general fulfillment of the plan very carefully. According to the individual groups, the plan was fulfilled as follows:

(a) Milk and dairy products

The government purchase in the Czech Provinces was around 100%, in Slovakia, about 6.6% more. The production and delivery to the market in Czechoslovakia surpasses considerably the planned quantity. In the Czech Provinces the effective import does not reach the planned quantity, but in Slovakia, the planned quantity (butter) was exceeded.

(b) Eggs

The government purchase of eggs exceeded in the second quarter the plan in the Czech provinces, as well as in Slovakia, where it reached almost twice the planned quantity. The exceeding of the plan for the government purchase of eggs was made possible by the good organization of the collection points. The favorable result of the purchase influenced also the delivery to the markets, and the plan of consumption was considerably exceeded in the Czech Provinces and in Slovakia.

(c) Meat and meat products

The government buying of meat in the Czech Provinces did not nearly reach the planned quantity; in Slovakia it did not reach even 50%. Particularly pork in the Czech Provinces and beef in Slovakia show a smaller fulfillment of the plan. The import of meat into the Czech Provinces did not reach even 20%; in Slovakia, the import did not reach 60%. The small amount of buying and the trifling import influenced the delivery to the markets, and the plan for the delivery to the markets was fulfilled in the Czech Provinces by 80%, in Slovakia, by approximately 60%. In order to cover the consumption, it was necessary to use the reserves. In the statistical table of stocks the mentioned percentage is irrelevant, as the plan does not contain all items, whereas all items are quoted in the chart. The unsatisfactory fulfillment of the plan of buying and import, and also the neglect to create reserves for the summer months, will make the maintaining of unchanged meat rations difficult.

(d) Fish and fish products.

The supply of fish and fish products is very satisfactory, and is influenced by the very favorable development of imports.

(e) Fats

The supply of artificial and natural fats is approximately 100% of the plan. The production of artificial fats in the Czech provinces reaches approximately 90%, in Slovakia approximately 70%. The import of raw material for the production of artificial fats is very small in Czech provinces, and completely lacking in Slovakia. Nevertheless, there is no important reduction of the stocks. The government buying of natural fats reached approximately 80%, in Slovakia a little less than 60%. The import of natural fats in the second quarter was approximately 25% in the Czech provinces whereas in Slovakia it reached a quantity three times as high as the plan.

(f) Sugar and syrups

The delivery of sugar to the market was continuous and reached almost 100% in the Czech provinces and in Slovakia. The export of sugar from the Czech provinces reached almost 75%; there was no export from Slovakia. The production of candy did not nearly reach the plan in the Czech provinces and in Slovakia (approximately 85%). The consumption of candy reached about 90%. The free sale of candy for higher prices declined again, so that consumption again approached the plan. In the first quarter the plan for the consumption of candy was exceeded by approximately 8%.

(g) Potatoes

The actual government buying of potatoes does not nearly correspond to the plan in the Czech provinces or in Slovakia. The reason is that the plan for the year 1949 was not well conceived, neither for the entire year nor for the individual periods. The supplying of the consumers was continuous in the second quarter.

(h) Legumes and nuts

There was no government buying of legumes in the Czech provinces, whereas in Slovakia the plan was exceeded by approximately 100%. The import of legumes to the Czech provinces was exceeded by 40%; there was no import into Slovakia. The delivery to the market was influenced by buying and import, and the plan was fulfilled to approximately 80%.

(i) Fruit and fruit products

The delivery to the markets was higher in the Czech provinces than the plan by approximately a third. In Slovakia it did not reach 90%. The import of fruit into the Czech provinces was favorable; there was no import into Slovakia.

(j) Vegetables and vegetable products

The situation was the same as that of fruits.

(k) Citrus fruits and tomatoes

The planned import of lemons into the Czech provinces was fulfilled to 144%, in Slovakia to 100%. The planned import of oranges was altogether exceeded by 20%. The delivery of tomatoes to the market was over-fulfilled in the Czech provinces up to 200%, in Slovakia it was only fulfilled by 10%.

l) Grain and grain products

The plan for government buying was low in the Czech provinces; the buying reached, however, 200% of the plan. No plan was established in Slovakia. A great quantity of grain was bought there, nevertheless. The planned import of wheat was exceeded by approximately 90% in the Czech provinces; in Slovakia it reached approximately 80% of the planned quantity. The delivery of rice to the market was in the Czech provinces approximately 68% of the planned quantity, in Slovakia approximately 90%. The import plan for rice was fulfilled to 200% in the Czech provinces, and to 140% of the plan in Slovakia.

m) Beverages

The production of beer in the Czech provinces lacked by 10% fulfillment of the plan; it was exceeded in Slovakia by a little less than 10%. The consumption of brandy and liquors was exceeded in the Czech provinces by approximately a third of the plan, in Slovakia by 15%.

The consumption of grape wine did not nearly fulfill the plan in the Czech Provinces nor in Slovakia, as only approximately 25% of the planned quantity was delivered to the market. Also, the consumption of coffee was far below the plan in the Czech Provinces and in Slovakia, mainly because of the high price of coffee on the free market. The sale of coffee extracts reached in the Czech Provinces approximately 40% of the planned quantity, in Slovakia 60%.

3. Fulfillment of the Purchase Plan

The purchase plan was fulfilled by a total of 94.1% in the whole country in the second quarter of 1949. It is broken down as follows:

	Animal	198.2	97.3	269.3
	Total	103.9	93.1	126.3
Total		90.4	86.1	98.9

The purchase plan was overfulfilled by more than 25% in the following items: Czech Provinces: butter, barley, oats, oil seeds and vegetables; Slovakia: Oil seeds, legumes and eggs.

The purchase plan was fulfilled by less than 75% in the following items: Czech Provinces: corn, late and industrial potatoes, poultry, sweetwater fish and natural fat; Slovakia: butter, beef and pork meat, veal and natural fats.

The government buying of bread grain was fulfilled in the Czech Provinces by 92.6%; in Slovakia it was not planned, but 55,961 tons of wheat and 13,037 tons of rye were purchased. The plan for the buying of fodder grain was fulfilled in the entire country by 483.1%. No plan had been established there. 900.02% of the plan for oil seeds were purchased in the Czech Provinces, but the total quantity of the purchased oil seeds is very small. In Slovakia, the government buying of oil seeds reached 136.7% but the figures of the plan were very low.

The plan for the buying of milk was fulfilled in the Czech Provinces by 95.7% and considerably exceeded in Slovakia. The buying of eggs reached in the Czech Provinces 111.8%, in Slovakia, 188.6% of the plan. The plan for the buying of meat was fulfilled in the Czech Provinces only by 84.9%, in Slovakia by 45.4%; this is therefore still the most unfavorable item.
