MEMORANDUM FOR

The Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT: Coordination of the United States
Foreign Intelligence Effort

Our Government is making a substantial effort and is expending large sums of money to obtain timely intelligence vital to our national defense and security. This effort requires the most efficient possible organization of the activities of the various departments and agencies concerned. It is essential that these activities be conducted as an integrated endeavor best suited to meet both current and longer-term national intelligence needs. One of the essential objectives of this integrated effort is to give timely notice to me and to other officials of critical developments which have an important bearing on our national security.

In view of the urgent necessity for maintaining effective coordination of all U.S. foreign intelligence functions, I request that you serve as the Government's chief intelligence officer, and that you pursue as a primary responsibility the task of coordinating and guiding the total U.S. foreign intelligence effort in accordance with National Security Council Intelligence Directive Number One of March 4, 1964.

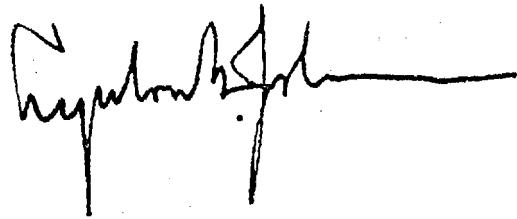

In the performance of your responsibility I shall expect you to work closely with the heads of U.S. Government departments and agencies having foreign intelligence responsibilities, with a view to assuring the proper coordination, correlation, evaluation and prompt dissemination of intelligence obtained from all sources. You are authorized and directed to establish, in consultation with member agencies of the intelligence community, such arrangements and guide lines as are necessary for this purpose. It is my wish that you receive from the departments and agencies concerned the full cooperation and assistance which are essential to the success of your coordinating responsibility.

THE UNITED STATES INTELLIGENCE BOARD

1. The United States Intelligence Board (USIB) is established by National Security Council Directives to advise and assist the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) as he may require in discharging his statutory responsibilities and in coordinating the foreign intelligence activities of the United States. The Board was created in September 1958 to assume the responsibilities and functions previously discharged by two separate bodies - the Intelligence Advisory Committee (IAC) and the United States Communications Intelligence Board (USCIB).
2. Under the chairmanship of the Director of Central Intelligence, the USIB membership consists of the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence (CIA); the Director of Intelligence and Research, Department of State; the Director, Defense Intelligence Agency; the Director, National Security Agency; and a representative each of the Atomic Energy Commission and of the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The Intelligence Chiefs of the Military Departments attend USIB meetings as observers, and may express divergent views on substantive intelligence matters. The general structure of the foreign intelligence community as represented on the USIB is shown in Tab A hereto.
3. The basic charter of the USIB and the authorities of the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) in his role as the Chairman, USIB are contained in National Security Council Intelligence Directives (NSCID) Nos. 1-8, which are based upon the National Security Act of 1947, as amended. The most basic of these, NSCID No. 1, directs that the DCI shall coordinate the foreign intelligence activities of the United States. It also contains the charter of USIB (summarized in Tab B), specifies membership on the Board (see Tab C), and contains procedures for reaching a decision.
4. NSCID No. 2 directs the coordination and allocation of intelligence collection activities, and NSCID No. 3 covers the coordination and allocation of intelligence production. NSCID No. 4 provides for the handling of defectors. NSCID No. 5 specifies the procedures necessary to achieve direction and coordination of U. S. espionage and counterintelligence activities abroad. The activities pertaining to communications intelligence (COMINT) and electronic

GROUP I

Excluded from automatic

intelligence (ELINT), together designated as SIGINT, are regulated by the provisions of NSCID No. 6. Establishment of critical intelligence communications means is directed by NSCID No. 7. Finally, NSCID No. 8 provides guidance on photographic interpretation for intelligence purposes. As appropriate, the NSCIDs are supplemented by Director of Central Intelligence Directives (DCIDs) which spell out in greater detail the more general provisions of the NSC directives. A chart showing the general allocation of responsibilities for collection and production of foreign intelligence is attached as Tab D.

5. In addition to the authorities expressed in the foregoing NSCIDs, the position of the DCI as the Government's principal foreign intelligence officer has been further clarified and defined in Presidential directives. The most recent was a memorandum from President Johnson dated 24 September 1965 which included the following paragraph:

"In view of the urgent necessity for maintaining effective coordination of all U. S. foreign intelligence functions, I request that you serve as the Government's chief intelligence officer, and that you pursue as a primary responsibility the task of coordinating and guiding the total U. S. foreign intelligence effort in accordance with National Security Council Intelligence Directive Number One of March 4, 1964."

6. Normally the USIB reaches its decisions by agreement. However, lacking unanimity, when the Chairman determines that a given position represents the consensus of the Board, it shall be considered as agreed unless a dissenting member requests the DCI to refer the issue to the NSC. Decisions of the Board shall be binding, as applicable, on all departments and agencies of the Government. In the case of National Intelligence Estimates (NIEs), NSCID No. 1 provides that the DCI shall produce national intelligence with the support of USIB. These estimates either have the concurrence of members of the Board or a statement of any substantially differing opinion of such a member or of the Intelligence Chief of a Military Department.

7. Actions taken by the USIB in regular weekly meetings or by memorandum vote are concerned about equally with consideration of substantive estimates and Watch Reports, and with the provision of policy and program guidance normally formulated by the respective Board committees. Recently the USIB has averaged about three meetings per month with an agenda of 5-6 items, plus around 20 memorandum actions per month approving, concurring in or noting items not requiring deliberation in meetings.

SECRET

8. The Board of National Estimates (BNE) periodically presents to the USIB for approval a program of National Intelligence Estimates (NIEs) for production during the next six months. In preparing this program the BNE consults with committees of USIB and member agencies, and with the White House Staff. For all practical purposes, the Chiefs of Intelligence of the Army, Navy and Air Force contribute to and participate in the production of NIEs essentially as do USIB Members. Requests for NIEs or Special National Intelligence Estimates (SNIEs) may also be submitted at any time the situation warrants and are transmitted to USIB through the Chairman or the BNE. After approval by USIB, terms of reference are prepared and contributions elicited from member agencies. From these contributions the BNE prepares a draft which is reviewed, commented on and revised as necessary by the BNE and representatives of USIB agencies prior to submission to the USIB for approval. As pointed out previously, any agency may dissent to any feature of an estimate.

9. In order to provide effective professional support to USIB over the wide range of specialized intelligence subjects considered by the Board, there are 14 subordinate committees reporting directly to USIB. The membership of these committees is generally made up of trained personnel with experience in the field represented. The primary areas of responsibility handled by the various USIB committees are shown in Tab E. Most USIB committees, working within their terms of reference in DCIDs and the policy guidance of the Board, are authorized to conduct the majority of their day-to-day business without reference to USIB, unless Board action is required or there is disagreement on a particular matter. Certain other committees, however, by the nature of their activities must refer the majority of their work to USIB for approval prior to dissemination to the intelligence community. The Committee on Imagery Requirements and Exploitation, the SIGINT Committee, the Critical Collection Problems Committee, the Guided Missile and Astronautics Intelligence Committee, the Watch Committee and the Intelligence Information Handling Committee are outstanding examples of committees that work closely and frequently with the Board. The Chairman of each USIB Committee also plays a leading role in support of both the DCI and USIB. Each chairman is immediately available on a day-to-day basis to the DCI as Chairman of USIB to perform any staff studies or other assignments for the DCI or USIB requiring a coordinated intelligence community approach.

SECRET

10. The USIB Executive Secretary, under the direct supervision of the DCI as Chairman USIB, provides staff support in managing the Board's affairs and its relationships with the various USIB committees and agencies. The USIB Secretariat is primarily concerned with developing an agenda of items to be considered by the Board at each meeting or by memorandum action between meetings; reviewing, editing, coordinating, reproducing and circulating USIB documents; recording the minutes of each meeting including a record of memorandum actions; and follow up actions to assure compliance with Board decisions or other USIB actions.

"NATIONAL SECURITY ACTION MEMORANDUM NO. 341

TO : The Secretary of State
The Secretary of Defense
The Administrator of the Agency for International Development
The Director of the Central Intelligence Agency
The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff
The Director of the United States Information Agency

SUBJECT: The Direction, Coordination and Supervision of Interdepartmental Activities Overseas.

To assist me in carrying out my responsibilities for the conduct of foreign affairs, I have assigned to the Secretary of State authority and responsibility to the full extent permitted by law for the overall direction, coordination and supervision of interdepartmental activities of the United States Government overseas. Such activities do not include those of United States military forces operating in the field where such forces are under the command of a United States area military commander and such other military activities as I elect as Commander in Chief to conduct through military channels. The Secretary of State will discharge this authority and responsibility primarily through the Under Secretary of State and the regional Assistant Secretaries of State, who will be assisted by interdepartmental groups of which they will be executive chairmen, i.e., with full powers of decision on all matters within their purview, unless a member who does not concur requests the referral of a matter to the decision of the next higher authority.

Activities which are internal to the execution and administration of the approved programs of a single department or agency and which are not of such a nature as to affect significantly the overall U. S. overseas program in a country or region are not considered to be interdepartmental matters in the meaning of this NSAM. If disagreement arises at any echelon over whether a matter is interdepartmental or not in the meaning of this NSAM, the procedure set forth herein will be invoked which permits a dissenting department or agency to appeal from the decision of an executive chairman to the next higher authority.

1. The Senior Interdepartmental Group

To assist the Secretary of State in discharging his authority and responsibility for interdepartmental matters which cannot be dealt with adequately at lower levels or by present established procedures, including those of the Intelligence Community, the Senior Interdepartmental Group (SIG) is established. The SIG shall consist of the Under Secretary of State, Executive Chairman, the Deputy Secretary of Defense, the Administrator of the Agency for International Development, the Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Director of the United States Information Agency, and the Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs. Representatives of other departments and agencies with responsibility for specific matters to be considered will attend on invitation by the Chairman.

The Senior Interdepartmental Group will assist the Secretary of State by:

- a. ensuring that important foreign policy problems requiring interdepartmental attention receive full, prompt and systematic consideration;
- b. dealing promptly with interdepartmental matters referred by the Assistant Secretaries of State or raised by any of its members, or, if such matters require higher level consideration, reporting them promptly to the Secretary of State for appropriate handling;
- c. assuring a proper selectivity of the areas and issues to which the United States Government applies its resources;
- d. carrying out the duties and responsibilities set forth in NSAM 124 and related subsequent NSAMs of the Special Group (counterinsurgency), which is hereby abolished; and
- e. conducting periodic surveys and checks to verify the adequacy and effectiveness of interdepartmental overseas programs and activities.

The SIG will meet in the Department of State regularly and specially at the call of the Chairman. The Chairman will be supported by a full time staff of personnel furnished on his request by the departments and agencies represented on the SIG.

2. Interdepartmental Regional Groups

To assist the Assistant Secretaries of State, an Interdepartmental Regional Group (IRG) shall be established for each geographic region corresponding to the jurisdiction of the geographic bureaus in the Department of State. Each IRG shall be composed of the regional Assistant Secretary of State, Executive Chairman, and a designated representative from Defense, AID, CIA, the Organization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, USIA and the White House or NSC staff. Representatives of other departments and agencies with responsibility for specific matters to be considered will attend on invitation by the Chairman. Meeting and staffing procedures will be patterned on the SIG.

The regional Assistant Secretaries, in their capacities as Executive Chairmen of the IRGs, will assure the adequacy of United States policy for the countries in their region and of the plans, programs, resources and performance for implementing that policy. They will be particularly watchful for indications of subversive aggression directed at the overthrow of governments in the region which the United States has a cogent interest to maintain, and, when such matters require higher level consideration, will recommend appropriate measures to higher authority for dealing with emergent critical situations in their regions.

May 1, 1968

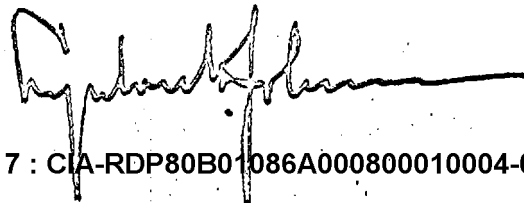

MEMORANDUM TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE
THE CHAIRMAN, PRESIDENT'S FOREIGN
INTELLIGENCE ADVISORY BOARD

SUBJECT: The U. S. Foreign Intelligence Effort

Pursuant to my appointment of General Maxwell D. Taylor to serve as Chairman of the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board, as successor to Secretary Clark M. Clifford, I wish to emphasize the importance which I attach to the foreign intelligence function in government and to the mission of the Board. In this period of rapid political and economic change, the operation of government is more dependent than ever before on reliable, timely intelligence leading to a wise evaluation of the world situation. Under the coordination and guidance of the Director of Central Intelligence, all members of the U. S. foreign intelligence community contribute to this essential service.

I shall continue to look to the Board for a continuous review and assessment of all aspects of the activities of the foreign intelligence community and shall expect to receive recurrent recommendations from it for strengthening the effectiveness of these activities.

In accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 10938 of May 4, 1961 and of my memorandum of October 19, 1965 on this same subject, I wish the Board to be able to assure me at all times of the quality, responsiveness and reliability of the intelligence which reaches the decision-makers of Government. To assist it in this mission, I ask the heads of Departments and Agencies concerned to cooperate fully and freely with the Board in the discharge of its mission.

ESTABLISHING THE PRESIDENT'S FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE
ADVISORY BOARD

By virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States, it is ordered as follows:

Section 1. There is hereby established the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board. The function of the Board shall be to advise the President with respect to the objectives and conduct of the foreign intelligence and related activities of the United States which are required in the interests of foreign policy and national defense and security.

Section 2. In the performance of its advisory duties, the Board shall conduct a continuing review and assessment of all functions of the Central Intelligence Agency, and of other executive departments and agencies having such or similar responsibilities in the foreign intelligence and related fields, and shall report thereon to the President each six months or more frequently as deemed appropriate. The Director of Central Intelligence and the heads of other departments and agencies concerned shall make available to the Board any information with respect to foreign intelligence matters which the Board may require for the purpose of carrying out its responsibilities to the President. The information so supplied to the Board shall be afforded requisite security protection as prescribed by the provisions of applicable laws and regulations.

Section 3. Members of the Board shall be appointed from among qualified persons outside the Government and shall receive such compensation and allowances, consonant with law, as may be prescribed hereafter. Such compensation and allowances and any other expenses arising in connection with the work of the Board shall be paid from the appropriation appearing under the heading "Special Projects" in title I of the General Government Matters Appropriation Act, 1961, 74 Stat. 473, and, to the extent permitted by law, from any corresponding appropriation which may be made for subsequent years. Such payments shall be made without regard to the provisions of section 3681 of the Revised Statutes and section 9 of the act of March 4, 1909, 35 Stat. 1027 (31 U.S.C. 672 and 673).

Section 4. Executive Order No. 10656 of February 6, 1956, is hereby revoked.

MEMORANDUM FOR

The Secretary of State
The Secretary of Defense
✓The Director of Central Intelligence
The Chairman, President's Foreign
Intelligence Advisory Board

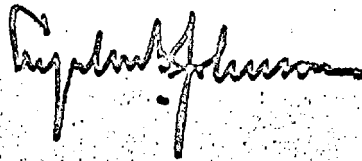

SUBJECT: Foreign Intelligence Activities of the United States

The interests of national defense and security require sustained effort on the part of the intelligence community to support me and other officials having policy and command responsibilities. It is therefore my desire that priority attention be given to ways and means of strengthening the Government's capabilities in the foreign intelligence and related fields through concerted action to improve the organization, conduct and effectiveness of the major intelligence-related programs in which U.S. departments and agencies are engaged. Efficient management and direction of the complex activities which make up the total foreign intelligence effort are essential to meet day-to-day national intelligence requirements, and to ensure the development and application of advanced means for the collection, processing, analysis, estimating and reporting of intelligence information. In this connection, you have already seen my letter of instruction to the Director of Central Intelligence dated September 24, 1965.

In keeping with Executive Order No. 10938, I will continue to look to the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board for advice and recommendations concerning the objectives and conduct of the foreign intelligence and related activities of the United States. I shall expect representatives of the Board to continue the practice of making on-the-scene reviews of significant intelligence activities carried out in the United States and at appropriate locations abroad.

To facilitate the work of the Board I shall expect the heads of all departments and agencies concerned to make available to the Board any information which the Board may require for the purpose of carrying out its responsibilities to me.
