General Thomas S. Power
Commander in Chief,
Strategic Air Command
Headquarters, Offutt Air Force Base
Nebraska

Dear General Power:

I would like to thank you and the appropriate officers at the Strategic Air Command Headquarters for the excellent presentations given the officers of our CIA Midcareer Course on 17 and 18 February. I am informed that these officers appreciated not only the substantive content of the presentations but also the friendly and cordial atmosphere in which they were held.

Through the efforts of Maj. Gen. Robert Smith and officers of his command the students were given a clearer understanding of the workings of S. A. C. in its vital role in our nation's defense.

I particularly want to express our thanks to the officers of the 551st Strategic Missile Squadron, Lincoln Air Force Base. The students' critiques reflected their appreciation of this most memorable experience.

I hope that in future courses we will be able to include similar visits to S. A. C.

Faithfully yours,

(Signed) Marshall S. Carter
