Dear Sherman:

As you know, except in unusual cases when the Agency requests an employee to remain in active service, it is our policy to encourage employees to retire voluntarily when eligible to do so. I understand that you will be eligible to retire with full annuity at the end of this year.

I feel very strongly that your retirement at that time would be a great loss to the Agency and to the intelligence community. I should therefore appreciate very much your consenting to remain in active service for another year. I shall not ask you to commit yourself for a longer period of time. However, I should like to reserve the right to request a further extension if this should appear to be in the best interests of the Agency and, of course, if your personal plans should permit.

I shall be grateful for your favorable response.

Sincerely,

(signed) W. F. Raborn

Dear Sherrin:

I am sure that you are familiar with the Agency's retirement policy which would normally bring about your retirement at the end of this year. However, in recognition of your valuable contributions of the past and present and the continuing need for your counsel, I am writing to ask you to remain in active service for at least another year.

I shall not ask you to commit yourself for a longer period at this time but will have the understanding with you that we will take another look at our situation and your plans a year from now.

Sincerely,

W. F. Raborn
Director
