Mr. J. Walter Yeagley
Chairman
Interdepartmental Committee
on Internal Security
Room 3529, Dept. of Justice Bldg.
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Yeagley:

We have reviewed the Report of the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security, dated 10 March 1959, "Concerning the Status and Disposition to be Made in the Event of a War-Related Emergency of Merchant Vessels and Civil Aircraft and Persons Thereon Within the Territorial Jurisdiction of the U.S. Actually or Potentially Dangerous to the Internal Security of the United States," and have noted the recommendation in paragraph 31.

CIA has a current and continuing requirement to furnish to the appropriate action agencies any and all information that affects the internal security of the United States. This is designated by CIA regulation as our top priority counterintelligence responsibility abroad, and we are aware of the urgent need by the action agencies for prompt information regarding individuals, foreign merchant vessels or civil aircraft actually or potentially dangerous to the internal security of the United States.

In connection with the recommendation in paragraph 31, I want to advise you that we are directing the attention of our personnel abroad and here in Washington to the urgent need by the action agencies for prompt information of the type discussed in the Committee's report.

Sincerely,

SIGNED
